Stock Values Increase Two Billions in Day

WAVE OF BUYING SENDS ALL ISSUES INTO NEW HIGHS

Short Interests Driven To Cover in Trading Day Which Witnesses 4,100,000 Sales.

PUBLIC IS AGAIN ACTIVE IN MARKET

Industrial Averages Show Day's Gain of 4.82, More Than 20 Points Above December Low.

BY RICHARD L. GRIDLEY.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—(UP)—More than two billion dollars was added to the listed value of shares on the New York Stock Exchange today as stocks engaged in a display of strength reminiscent of the Coolidge bull market. Approximately 4,100,000 shares changed hands in the heavy buying wave.

Gains in leading stocks ranged from one to more than three points, with the more volatile issues scoring gains of 5 to nearly 20 points. Closing prices generally were around the highs of the session, levels which represented new high marks for the current year. Wall Street was taken off its feet by the sudden burst of strength in various stocks, which started at the opening gong and continued with little interruption until the close. A strong opening had been expected following the display of strength at Saturday's closing but few traders had looked for such a reversal of the recent trend.

While much of the buying was attributed to active covering on the part of frantic shorts, considerable new buying on the part of the investment public was noted in many of the lower priced issues. Much of this demand has been held up pending establishment of a definite trend in the market.

The rise in the market was accompanied by fireworks in numerous speculative issues. Auburn Auto, which is known to have a large short interest, scored 38 3/4 points to a new high for the year at 174 1/2. This price compared with last year's low of 60 3/8 and a low this year of 101 1/2.

Others scoring large gains were Industrial Rayon, up 12 1/2; Allied Chemical, up 4 1/2; American Tobacco, up 3; Case, up 6 1/8; Crucible, up 3 5/8; Loew's, up 3 1/4; North American, up 3 1/2; Peoples Gas, up 4; and United States Freight, up 5 1/2.

Among the pivotal shares, United States Steel rose 3 1/2; General Motors 3 1/8; American Can 3; Coca-Cola 3 1/8; and General Electric 1 1/4. Dow-Jones industrial averages showed a gain of 4.82 points to 177.72, a new high for the year and more than 20 points over the extreme low reached on December 17. Railroad averages gained 1.06 points to 109.08, while the utility compilation advanced 1.74 points to 65.65.

Hoover Asks Funds To Deport Foreigners

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(AP)—President Hoover asked congress today to appropriate $500,000 more for the immigration bureau so it may accelerate deportation of aliens.

The president transmitted a statement by Director Roon, of the budget, that this sum would allow an increase of 245 in the number of patrolmen.

New York's Unemployed Hail Heavy Snowfall

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Snow showers clanged a metallic psalm of praise to the weather today as 20,000 New Yorkers rejoiced that they had jobs at last.

A week-end snowfall, which in other years, would have been unwelcome, was greeted by city officials as a splendid chance to help the jobless. The 20,000 were put to work at $5 a day.

From the canyons of Manhattan to the farthest open spaces of Queens they labored joyfully. Many of them were too thickly clad, officials said, but shivering or not, all seemed cheerful at the chance to earn a half dollar an hour.

COMMISSION GIVEN RIGHT TO EXAMINE RATES AT CORDELE

Dissolution by the supreme court of an injunction obtained in the Fulton county superior court by the Georgia Power Company restraining the Georgia public service commission from investigating rates in Crisp county gives the commission the power to compel the company to show cause why its rates should not be reduced in every community as they have been cut in Cordele.

The injunction was sought by the power company when the commission, acting on information that the power company had slashed its rates on the establishment near Cordele of a municipally owned plant, issued a rule nisi against the company calling on it to show cause why rates should not be revised.

James A. Perry, chairman of the public service commission, which appealed from the Fulton court's grant of injunction, would add nothing to the opinion handed down by the judges Monday. He said that the next step in the commission would be to certify to the Fulton superior court, if certified when the formal opinion is rendered, and then transmitted to the defendant.

The court also decided another case against the Georgia Power Company Monday when it affirmed the ruling of the Fulton superior court granting a restraining order to prevent the company from abandoning a part of its system known as the North Rome line.

A street railway company, under duty to a city from a franchise granted by the city to operate a street railway, the opinion declared, "cannot rid itself of its obligation by dismantling the road and cutting off the service piecemeal. Nor can it split its railroad into two separate franchises by selling its railway property and continuing its light and power property."

The company had proposed to substitute buses but this proposal was rejected by opponents of the petition in the Rome court.

In each of two cases decided Monday, five superior court judges sat in places of regular members of the supreme court who were disqualified because of the ownership of power stock in their families.

In the Crisp county case the public service commission had ordered the rates should not be reduced in every county as they had been cut in Cordele and Crisp county.

Prior to the establishment of a municipal plant at Cordele, financed by Crisp county and the city of Cordele, the Georgia Power Company's schedule of rates was higher than that subsequently introduced by the home owned plant. When the latter plant fixed its rates after the then prevailing schedule of the Georgia Power Company, the latter inaugurated a cut of approximately 35 per cent under its home competitor.

The power company contended that pressure had been used on its patrons in Crisp county to compel them to become customers of the Crisp county power plant, built from a countywide bond issue, and that even social pressure had been applied to force patrons to cease dealing with the Georgia Power Company.

The order was issued August 22, 1930, but a hearing was enjoined by Judge G. H. Howes, who was petitioned by attorneys for the power company.

Paul Rockwell, one-time reporter on The Constitution, who went to France to join the French army at the outbreak of the World War in 1914, appeared to the supreme court of France Monday to help him gain occupancy of a house he bought six years ago in Paris.

Captain Rockwell, who made an enviable record during his war service and who, since the armistice, has resided in France, is still an American citizen. In his appeal to the highest French tribunal he bases much of his legal contention on the reciprocal treaty rights between France and the United States and, in legal circles, the outcome of the case is expected to have an important bearing upon the future of those treaty rights.

Captain Rockwell was one of the first to volunteer in the French foreign legion after the war broke out. His brother, Kiffin Rockwell, also joined the French army and was a distinguished member of the famous Lafayette Escadrille, finally losing his life with that air squadron.

After the war Paul Rockwell married in France, his wife being the daughter of a distinguished French

APPROVAL SEEN FOR COMPROMISE ON DROUTH RELIEF

Democratic Leaders Swing to Plan After Hoover Promises Sympathetic Distribution.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Adoption of the drouth loan agreement was vigorously urged in the senate today by Democratic Leader Robinson with assurance by President Hoover of sympathetic administration of the $20,000,000 fund.

Pleading that prompt action was imperative "if relief is to be in time," Senator Robinson upheld the agreement through a round of questioning by doubtful members of both sides of the aisle.

The democratic leader insisted that drouth stricken farmers could use the loans for whatever purposes they saw fit in rehabilitating their farms.

"No man is going to work his crop naked," the Arkansas finally asserted, showing some impatience at the persistent questioning regarding availability of loans for food purchases.

"He's not going into the golden glory of the sunshine with an empty stomach. He's going to have food and he's going to have clothes. It's not a gift, however, it's a loan. For God's sake how strong are the imaginations of some. In my opinion a large part of the proceeds of these loans will be spent for food—there isn't any doubt about it."

Saves Agreement.
President Hoover's letter to Senator Robinson reached the capital just in time to save a threatened agreement regarding the drouth relief fund intended by Secretary Hyde as expressed in his letter of Saturday.

"As to our conversation this morning," wrote President Hoover to Senator Robinson, "I am glad to confirm at once the proposed additional drouth relief measure was suggested for the purpose of real aid to the weaker credit situation in the drouth area and that in the administration of it the secretary of agriculture assures me he has no other intention and that he will interpret fairly and sympathetically."

Senator George, democrat, Georgia, interposed in the debate later the funds for flood relief in the southeastern states had been "fairly and sympathetically" administered.

Robinson, called attention in reply to Senator Barkley, democrat, Kentucky, who complained of Secretary Hyde's "cruel" administration of the $45,000,000 seed loan fund that the terms of the compromise were broader than allowed under that appropriation.

Leaders were confident of adoption of the agreement tonight. The compromise was approved by the senate.

COUNTY OBTAINS $2,000,000 LOAN

Fulton county has obtained a loan of $2,000,000 at a net cost of 3 1/2 per cent for operation of the county government until taxes arrive.

The money will be available to the county early in March. The interest rate is the lowest obtained by the county since it began borrowing money under the legislative act authorizing such loans. The county paid 5 1/4 per cent net interest last year.

The loan was negotiated through Robinson-Humphreys Company, of Atlanta. The money will be obtained from the Guarantee Trust Company, of New York. Commissioner Edward H. Inman, chairman of the finance committee, who is in New York, aided in the negotiations at the New York end, it was said.

Winter's Return Brings Snow, Rain and Joy To All Parts of U. S.

Snow Provides Thousands of Jobs for Unemployed; Value of Billions Placed on Moisture Falling Throughout Drouth Areas; South Is Drenched and Cold.

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—(UP)—Win-dousing widespread areas in central Tennessee, West Virginia and the Atlantic states.

Snow fell in southwest Pennsylvania and New England, in some of the Great Lakes states and in parts of Nebraska.

Unemployed citizens of Chicago, usually given a large amount of work each winter in shoveling away accumulations of snow from the city's streets, eyed the skies hungrily but were rewarded with only fitful flurries of snow.

Not a single snowstorm this winter has been of sufficient magnitude so far to warrant the street department's hiring of snow shovellers. Last year they were kept busy throughout the winter clearing the streets of one snow after another.

RAINFALL GENERAL.
THROUGHOUT DIXIE
The first rainfall in almost four weeks in Dixie early today brought promised return of freezing temperatures to most of the old south, but little relief from widespread winter drouth conditions which have endangered early crops.

The showers were heaviest in the Arkansas-Mississippi-Tennessee area around Memphis, where nearly an inch fell over the week-end. But farm crops said much more would be needed to give any considerable help to farm crops. At the same time, the predicted freezing temperatures were expected to increase the suffering of drouth-stricken farmers in that district.

Drizzling showers in McDowell and Monticello, N. C., were greeted by farmers as a relief. The showers were believed to have been started by persons who wanted employment as fire fighters. Thousands of acres of valuable woodland were destroyed. Rangers hoped for more rain to prevent the wind from drying the timber and perhaps paving the way for forest fires.

Temperatures were falling rapidly throughout the south, with freezing forecast as far south as Birmingham and Montgomery. A temperature of 31 degrees is predicted for Atlanta early tomorrow.

Help to Unemployed.
Farm experts said, however, that the ground was so dry it absorbed much moisture immediately. Still more moisture is needed, they added, if crops are to be normal this spring. The rains edged eastward today.

TENNESSEE FUNDS SAID MISPLACED STIRS CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Shaken to the bed rock by the mysterious killing of former Councilman William E. Potter, Cleveland citizens clamored tonight for a solution and arrest of the killers.

Every available city detective was put to work on the case, with Police Chief Matowitz in personal command. Two suspects were arrested and numerous persons were questioned, but no further testimony in Cleveland's notorious playground scandal which already has sent two prominent men to the penitentiary.

Another theory was that Potter knew too much about some other money-making racket and was killed by gangsters who were afraid of him. Potter, himself, had faced trial three times in the playground case but each time was acquitted. He had been scheduled for trial again today on a charge of perjury in previous testimony.

Former Councilman Liston G. Schooley and his son, Liston, Jr., are still in the penitentiary for their part in the playground case. Liston, Jr., was to have gone on parole tomorrow but the state board of clemency today postponed the action until June, because of the Potter killing.

The former councilman had been dead nearly five days before his body was found.

An unidentified man who gave his name as "M. J. Marcus" had rented the rooms, and a blond young woman had been seen there shortly before Potter was killed, police investigation developed.

There was no evidence, however, that Potter had known either "Marcus" or the woman. Detectives expressed the view the man and the woman had lured the former councilman there and had professional killers fire the fatal shots.

Potter had been a member of the city council 10 years but was defeated in the last election after the playground scandal was exposed. He was one of the city's most prominent figures.

Police learned the former councilman recently had been in financial difficulties.

HEAD OF SCHOOL SOUGHT AT DOERUN ON GIRL'S CHARGES

Superintendent's Position Declared Vacant by Board After J. J. Salter Disappears.

MOULTREE, Ga., Feb. 9.—(AP)—Sheriff T. C. Beard, of Colquitt county, tonight said he had a warrant for the arrest of J. J. Salter, superintendent of schools at Doerun, Ga., charging Salter with attempted assault on a 16-year-old schoolgirl.

Sheriff Beard said he had made no arrests and that his deputies had learned Salter, his wife and two children had left Doerun either late Saturday night or early Sunday.

The father of the girl in swearing out the warrant was quoted by officials as saying the attempted assault occurred as the school head was taking his daughter to her home, near Doerun, from a basketball game. Officials also said friends of the family had been told the girl jumped from Salter's automobile when he gave her a pistol and insisted she shoot him and then take her own life.

The girl told her parents of the affair when she reached home early yesterday after spending the night with neighbors, to whose home she said she ran after leaping from Salter's car. Asked if a possible Doerun citizen made a search for Salter after the alleged crime was made known, Sheriff Beard said he had heard that a hunt was being made but was not connected with his office took part.

Economists Will Center
Attention on Taxation.
Gregory To Speak.

TUESDAY'S PROGRAM.
8 P. M.—Opening of session—Dr. P. H. Jack, presiding. Address by Thomas W. Gregory, "Woodrow Wilson and the World War," university auditorium.

State government and state taxation problems of the future in the south will be given the attention of internationally-known authorities assembled here for the fourth annual institute of citizenship when it opens for a four-day session at Emory University tonight.

Thomas W. Gregory, attorney-general of the Woodrow Wilson cabinet, will open the institute with an address at 8 o'clock tonight on "Woodrow Wilson and the World War." Dr. E. M. Hughes, chairman of the institute, will preside.

On the subsequent three days, debates, addresses and round-table discussions, centering about the theme of taxation and state government, will be participated in by city officials, laymen, college professors and students of political science, assembled from Georgia and the surrounding states.

Eminent figures in the fields of criminology, economics and political science are scheduled for addresses.

Among the speakers who will be heard at the 1931 institute session, in addition to Mr. Gregory, are Dr. Manley O. Hudson, advisor of the League of Nations; Dr. John Landesco, noted criminologist of Chicago, and Professor Francis Deak, of Columbia University, authority on European politics and governmental problems.

The sessions will be open to the public. Program items of wide interest will include Dr. Landesco's talk on "The Gangster's Apology for His Mode of Living," at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, and a debate at 8 o'clock Wednesday night between Dr. John Crowe Ransom, Nashville writer, and W. H. Auden, English poet, on "Shall the South Follow the East and Go Industrial."

Plans for U. S. Trachoma Clinic Are Launched at Bainbridge

BAINBRIDGE, Ga., Feb. 9.—Plans for a trachoma clinic in Bainbridge were launched Monday with the arrival of Dr. Ida Bengtson, a cage of six monkeys for Doctor Bengtson's research work; Miss Grace Harwood, special nurse, and Miss Margaret Jones, also of the United States Public Health Service from government headquarters at Rolla, Mo.

Dr. M. A. Fort, health commissioner, had offices ready in the courthouse for the visitors and especially heated quarters for the monkeys in the city jail.

The clinic will be conducted on the most elaborate scale of any of its kind ever held.

Doctor R. C. expert surgeon from Rolla, will be assisted in operations by Dr. Carl Welch, local specialist. Dr. Bengtson, upon arrival here, said: "Enough interesting things were found in the slides sent me from the survey work done here some weeks ago to make me come to Bainbridge at once and I have returned for a two week's intensive research campaign on these leads in behalf of the real cause of trachoma. While many things on the subject have been found, no positive cause for trachoma has yet been established. There are about 300 cases here."

Broker Wagers He Can "Contact" 4 Celebrities

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 9.—(AP) William Robert Crissy, stock broker, has a job on his hands. Crissy says he has wagered $2,000 with several friends that before February 15, 1932, he will have dined with President Hoover, played golf with Bobby Jones, motored or played golf with the Prince of Wales, and played golf with John D. Rockefeller, Sr.

Crissy says he will resign next Monday from the brokerage firm with which he is connected. The firm does not wish its name published.

of Goode Proposal.

BY R. E. POWELL.
Forces in the general assembly backing the Western & Atlantic railroad rental discount plan, and those opposing it, spent Monday largely in marking time while assembly leaders continued a check of members in the hope that the bill may be brought to a vote before adjournment today.

Once out of the house and sent to the senate, the bill, either for three or ten years of discounting still will have to face considerable debate and possible compromise in the upper branch. A prospect for adjournment within two weeks, which appeared Saturday, became rather dim Monday as legislators pointed out the parliamentary situation which will arise if the bill has to go to a conference committee.

Adjournment of the house Monday, after an hour and a half of debate, was forced after the lower body had declined to fix a specific hour for the vote today. The house is sitting as a committee of the whole and, should a motion for adjournment be previous question be adopted, it will be 40 minutes before the roll call can begin.

Absent Members Sought.
As the house quit Monday afternoon, a movement was under way to bring back to the city this morning those members who have obtained leaves of absence and who are listed as doubtful in their views about the W. & A. bill. An effort was started Monday to have the members' return on hand today when the bill, sponsored by Representatives Willis Battle and Marion Allen, comes to a vote.

In an even shorter session the senate continued its consideration of the Goode bill to create a state tax commission and in the house, later in the day, the ways and means committee sent a companion measure to the Goode bill to a sub-committee after strong objections had been raised to

Washington Hesitancy In Meeting Requests Draws Pershing Fire

General Staff at Home Found Lacking in Initiative and Clear Conception of Task—Plane Production Criticized—Officers Careless in Appearance Quietly Replaced.

BY GENERAL JOHN J. PERSHING.

CHAPTER XXX.

(Copyright, 1931, in all countries by the North American Newspaper Alliance. World rights reserved, including the Scandinavian. Reproduction in whole or in part prohibited.)

At the ports the amount of freight discharged in January, 1918, was somewhat encouraging, being about two-fifths as much as during the preceding seven months. The rate of discharge was accelerated to some extent by the better distribution of our transports by the navy. More construction material was being delivered where it was needed for port works and the future was somewhat clarified in this respect by the arrival of additional logging machinery.

During the month there was also an increase in troop shipments, including some elements of the 32nd (Haar's) division, with 20,000 men for the service of supply. By the end of January approximately 120,000 combat troops, 34,000 engineer troops and 61,000 others for the service of supply were in France. Although promising, this was only the merest start, as we were still far behind our schedule.

It must be added, however, that the increase in the arrivals of men and materials remained haphazard and not at all in the proportions needed.

It continued apparent that my recommendations were not accepted in an altogether unhesitating spirit of helpfulness and that the serious need for executive leadership back home had not been met.

In the absence of any preparation for war beforehand the principle could hardly be questioned that the commander at the front should decide upon his requirements, and not the departments in Washington. The employment of our armies in Europe had been fully covered by general instruction and there were no problems of strategy or questions concerning operations that devolved upon the staff at Washington. These were matters for the commander-in-chief of the A. E. F. to determine.

It remained, then, for the war department simply and without avail to support our efforts to the fullest extent by promptly forwarding men and supplies as requested. The secretary of war was completely in accord with this conception, but it was evident that the staff departments had not grasped it, or else the disorganization and confusion were such that it could not be carried out.

In the successful command of an army such as ours eventually became it was necessary to bring the supervision of all elements of the administrative and technical departments under the control of the headquarters general staff. None of the departments entered upon their duties with any experience in war, nor had they in any real sense been trained even theoretically to solve the problems that urgently demanded solution. During times of peace each department had grown relatively independent of the others and its chief had directed the affairs of his department with little control, except of a very general character.

Lacked Clear Conception of Task. With reference to the general staff, the same thing may be said as to experience in war or real preparation for it. In fact, so faulty had been the training of the general staff as members of a great directive group that both the individuals and the group lacked initiative and purpose for want of a clear conception of their task. It was to overcome this inertia that I vested in the general staff well-defined powers to give such direction, by my authority, as might be necessary to co-ordinate the different parts of the organization.

Nor did this assumption of directive control reduce or affect the efficiency of the administrative or technical departments. Chiefs of their assistants, because they, too, under supervision, were given independent roles, encouraged and motivated at the same time by one requirement—success. Such was the broad conception of the organization built up as the G. H. Q., A. E. F.

My diary notes the following: Chaumont, Monday, February 18, 1918. General Foch and Major General Weygand visited headquarters Thursday, had luncheon with us and examined the general staff organization. Captain Todd, director of naval construction, came to confer regarding wireless station at Bordeaux.

Colonel Stimson, former secretary of war, now an efficient colonel of artillery, called and asked to be left with troops. Cable says Major General Biddle, replaced by Major General March as chief of staff at Washington, and ordered to England. Left Friday, spent Saturday and Sunday visiting 1st division in Ansuville sector; inspected through Mincourt to see General de Castelnau, who speaks highly of our troops.

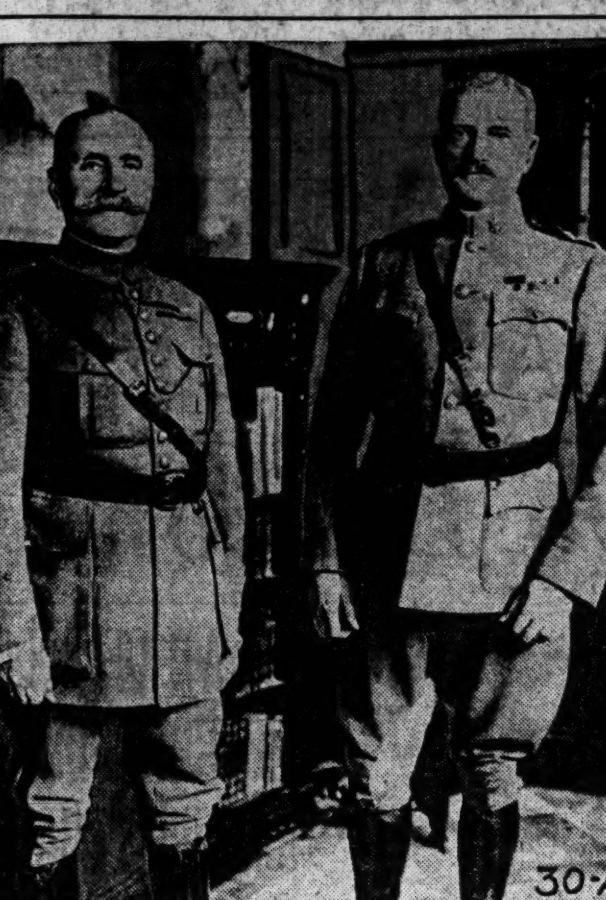

Returned this morning, stopping at aviation park, C. Comberles-Belles, Major Arthur Page commanding. Camouflage work exceptionally well done. Passed through Mincourt to see General de Castelnau, who speaks highly of our troops.

As General Foch, then chief of the French general staff, had shown some surprise when at the Allied meeting at Compiègne in January I told of the delays and difficulties we were having at the ports and in the operation of railways, I invited him to make a visit to my headquarters, hoping to put him in touch with our activities.

We had already reached a state of development at confirmed the soundness of our organization and could forecast its ability to meet all requirements. I went with him to the various sections of the general staff and while he expressed no opinion about what he saw, his aide and spokesman, General Weygand, a staff officer of experience, was very complimentary.

Foch Cold to Our Problems. Foch never seemed interested when I talked with him of our problems

French and American Chiefs

A close-up of General Pershing and General Foch. General Pershing says: "Foch never seemed much interested when I talked with him of our problems."

I doubt whether he ever thought, knew or cared much about organization or questions of transportation and supply. He was essentially a student and a teacher of history and strategy. The very extensive and intricate organization necessary to handle a modern army engaged in war beyond the seas was not easy to grasp. Indeed, the details were not entirely understood in our army itself, except by a limited number of officers charged with the functions of direction and co-ordination.

There continued, to be considerable cause to find fault with the attitude and methods of French bureau officials. They had been repeatedly urged to turn over certain docks and facilities for our exclusive use, and while some concessions had been made they were always made grudgingly and piecemeal, and we were never certain of more than temporary occupancy.

Under the circumstances I did not hesitate to call Prime Minister Clemenceau's attention to the remarks made in our house of representatives criticizing the French attitude toward affording us port accommodations. While this resulted in a somewhat more liberal policy, it did not remove the necessity for constant pressure and insistence on our part.

There was often no real co-operation among the subordinate French officials who seemed to make little attempt to understand our problems. Among the higher officials it was only by dint of constant urging that we could get them to let us have the railway traffic, was an ever-recurring matter of surprise to me how well our officers in direct daily contact with the many obstacles remained hopeful instead of becoming pessimistic as to the outcome.

It must be said, however, that the French officers of the liaison groups made individual attempts to understand our problems. Among the higher officials it was only by dint of constant urging that we could get them to let us have the railway traffic, was an ever-recurring matter of surprise to me how well our officers in direct daily contact with the many obstacles remained hopeful instead of becoming pessimistic as to the outcome.

Not Enough Training Planes. At this moment several hundred of our men were awaiting training, the French and Italian schools were full, and we had insufficient planes to train them ourselves. Only nine squadrons of the 200 that we should require could be considered at this time as anywhere near ready for service, and the prospects were that even this small number of planes purchased for their manufacture in France, it was small wonder that the French could be so materially hindered.

In the face of our failure to produce planes at home or to fulfill our engagements to furnish raw materials from the French unless the receipt of material from the States and consequently the production in France found themselves in a situation that would only warrant a promise of planes as a bribe to the States. With reference to the inspection trip noted in my diary, I had recently inspected several stations like Vitte and Bourgneuf-Bains which were commanded by regular officers, of whom, naturally, much was expected, but before the World War our army had always been more or less careless in dress and none too strict when in the field, and these were no exception to the rule. Even higher commanders did not immediately respond to the appearance and lax in the enforcement of discipline.

But the conditions of service in France during the war were such that these essentials, not only as a matter of pride but because of the general effect upon morale and efficiency. Good discipline is the first requisite to successful military effort, and the degree of its enforcement in a command is an almost certain index of the character of performance to be expected from the troops.

Likewise, an officer or soldier who takes no pride in his personal appearance is usually found careless in other respects, and to that extent less reliable in time of stress. It need hardly be added that those of this class who came under my observation and did not immediately respond to the appearance and lax in the enforcement of discipline.

Tomorrow, Germans indicate some offensive is ready to start; Pershing distressed by our lack of preparation.

GEORGE ATTACKS U. S. FARM BOARD

Georgia Senator Declares Speculation Has Hurt Cotton Farmer.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Charging that the speculative activities of the federal farm board had doubled the burden placed on the cotton farmer, instead of giving relief, Senator Walter George today attacked the buying of futures on the part of the board as a "misappropriation of public funds" and denounced its speculations in cotton market in strong terms.

The amendment, which would have prohibited the farm board from speculating in wheat or cotton, subsequently was defeated by a vote of 55 to 26 and the supply bill soon after was passed.

Senator George said in part:

"We created the federal farm board to do two things primarily. One was to assist the co-operative marketing associations, to foster those organizations and assist them in the marketing of the farmers' crop. The other was to protect the farmer, who does not buy and sell, but who produces and sells. What assistance can the federal farm board give to a co-operative association, to the farmer, by going into exchange transactions?"

"There is not a shadow of justification for the excuse for the farm board indulging in speculation so far as the co-operative organization is concerned."

"I understand the farm board has simply taken over the farmer's cotton, sold it directly to the mill and then gone on the exchange and engaged in a speculative enterprise. If that is so, that is a conversion, it is a misappropriation of public funds, because there is not a line or a wall in the act which authorizes or justifies that."

"When the board itself receives cotton and makes an outright sale of it into the market, to the mills, to speculate against its own sale, it not only can do the farmer no good by that transaction, but is a clear misappropriation of public funds."

At this point a senator of South Carolina interrupted to say:

"I would suggest that they received this cotton and sold it to the mills and then bought and contracted on the exchange, which doubled the burden of the farmer and the association."

Senator George then went on:

"Exactly, that is the very thing that has destroyed the cotton farmer. If they have sold the cotton and gone to the market and made speculative transactions, they are gambling; for what purpose? Not to help the farmer whose cotton has already been sold, but to make money for themselves. The appropriation, and that in my judgment is the only excuse they can have."

"Under the law the board is not a merchant. It is not a speculative organization. Co-operative organizations are not speculators or merchants. If they are, they might as well be abolished, because they will never do the farmer any good."

If the board stays in the speculative market it will lose the $500,000, and it will lose it over and over again. If that is the program that Mr. Hoover has for the relief of the farmer, mark my words, four or five years of Mr. Hoover and this country will have to convert the United States treasury into a community chest."

I want it distinctly understood that I have not a particle of sympathy with those cotton brokers who would break down the farm board, but I am criticizing the farm board for having fallen into the same evil practices indulged in so long by the speculative traders, from which we sought to free the farmer when we passed the farm marketing act."

TENNESSEE FARMER HELD FOR Uxoricide

SOMERVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 9.—(P)—Henry Leath, 45, farmer, was arrested and charged with first degree murder today soon after his wife was beaten to death with a hammer at their home.

Sheriff J. M. Langdon said Leath apparently killed his wife in a fit of insanity.

RUSSIA TO TAKE PART IN UNITING EUROPE

U. S. S. R. To Study Plans for Federation of Countries.

MOSCOW, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Soviet Russia will participate in the work of the commission studying plans for a European federation, the government notified the League of Nations today, but reserves the right to define its attitude toward the commission at a later date.

The commission invited Russia, Turkey and Iceland to participate in the economic phases of the discussion and this led Foreign Minister Litvinoff, in an accompanying note, to express some doubt as to whether the proposed federation meant a single groupment of European powers or two opposing groups.

"It seems strange and incomprehensible," he said, "that one group of European states should take it upon itself to decide as to the admission or non-admission of another group of European states into a community calling itself Pan-European, more especially so when a country like Switzerland occupying four-tenths of 1 per cent of the territory of Europe or Norway, occupying about 3.1 per cent, oppose the admission of a state like the U. S. S. R. . . ."

4 MEN, 50 HORSES BURNED TO DEATH

Tremendous Loss Caused by Blaze at Oakland Show.

OAKLAND, Cal., Feb. 8.—(AP)—Four men and fifty or more valuable horses, many of them champions and all of them well-known thoroughbreds, were burned to death here today by a fire that swept the grounds of the Oakland national horse show at the rear of the city auditorium.

The men were caretakers who slept in the building and tents that housed the show. The horses were entries in the sixth annual horse show that closed Saturday night.

The bodies of the four men were identified by friends and employees as those of John J. Thomas and Michael McCarthy, employees of the Carnation Farm stables, Pomona, Cal.; George Uhling, 55, San Francisco, stable employee by the horse show, and "Big Harvey," negro hostler.

The value of the horses burned was estimated by show officials at $300,000 and the value of equipment destroyed at $25,000. Only the fact that several owners had shipped their entries yesterday probably saved many other fine horses from a fiery death.

The cause of the fire remained a mystery, but firemen and city officials inclined to believe it originated with a carelessly tossed cigar. Tom Scott, of Mrs. Muriel Vanderbilt Church's stable, New York City, said he believed the fire was deliberately started.

Venezuela Opposes U. S. Oil Legislation

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Reliable reports in official circles tonight said that Venezuela had made informal representations to the state department against proposed legislation to restrict imports of oil into the United States.

Venezuelan legislation and state department officials declined to confirm or deny the reports, but authorities sources asserted Venezuela had taken the matter up with the department on the grounds that such prohibitions would be discriminatory.

Secretary Stimson declined to express an official opinion as to whether the proposed legislation to protect domestic producers would violate America's obligations under the League of Nations convention for the abolition of import and export restrictions.

For Coughs Too Deep To Risk A Lesser Help

Cremulsion was made to deal with coughs from colds which hang on. A three-day cough is a danger signal. There the utmost should be done. But a trifling cough may develop into something deep and difficult. Don't you think it wise to use the utmost help, even if a lesser help might do? Cremulsion combines seven major helps in one. The seven best helps known to medical science. One is best for one type of cough, one for another. Nobody can tell in advance. So the best way seems to be to combine all in one prescription. Cremulsion starts first. Here it is blended, emulsified and tasty. For soothing membranes and combating cold germs, the world knows nothing better. But some coughs best yield to white pine tar, some to wild cherry bark, some to menthol, some to ipecac, etc. So we combine all these factors at their best in a single formula.

For some coughs Cremulsion is better than you need. One of its factors might do. But don't you feel safer when a minor cough is treated in the utmost way?

If so, get Cremulsion. It costs a little more than lesser help—$1.25. But your druggist guarantees it. He returns your money if you are disappointed. You will feel safer in any cough if this master help combats it. Use it promptly. © Cremulsion Co., Inc., Atlanta, Ga. 1930

JURY TO INVESTIGATE POLICEMEN'S TRIALS

Indictments May Result
From Cases in Which Only
Reprimands Were Given.

Investigation of offenses for which police officers were reprimanded by the police committee probably will be undertaken by the Fulton county grand jury with a view of returning indictments, it was said Monday at the courthouse. Minutes of the police committee were obtained last week under subpoena duces tecum.

Charges likely to be investigated included threats and violence by officers toward citizens, use of profane and abusive language toward women, and alleged lax attitude of patrolmen in beating toward liquor running, it was reported.

Although Solicitor-General John A. Boykin remained silent on the question of the expected investigation, it was reported that the grand jury may go into the charges this week. The session today will involve matters of a routine nature. Chief of Police James L. Beavers and members of the new police committee were before the grand jury last week. Chief Beavers furnished the grand jury the required minute books, and said that he had not been able to secure co-operation from the department. Members of the police committee were informed of Chief Beavers' statements, and reiterated their stand taken recently that the department must co-operate and pull together with Chief Beavers, it was said.

GEN. MCCOY ACTS TO AID WAYCROSS

Based upon the solicitations of Governor L. G. Hardman, Senator William J. Harris and William B. Wilson, of Waycross, Ga., Major General Frank R. McCoy, fourth corps area commander, has issued instructions to assure the supply of blankets and other salvaged articles to the Red Cross at Waycross, Ga., for use by the unemployed needy at that place. Mr. Wilson has been furnished with a list of regular army posts where the desired articles may be procured at nominal prices. Waycross, being a highway center, is finding hundreds passing through to escape the cold of the north and in search of employment. An advisory board of citizens in conjunction with the Salvation Army is trying to aid these unfortunate.

Traffic Changes Are Suggested To Solve Atlanta Problem

One-way traffic streets for Atlanta in the central business area were proposed and generally approved as a solution for the city's traffic congestion problem Monday at a meeting of the traffic committee of the Atlanta Motor Club in the Ansley hotel. Within a few days an executive session will be held to work out definite plans for coping with traffic difficulties.

A traffic court to deal solely with traffic violations and the faults and needs of this phase of community administration; a one-hour parking plan for the entire city to prevent automobile owners from making garages of the city streets; a license law for all car operators, and the granting of fuller power to the police traffic department, giving it a free hand with all interference eliminated, were suggestions made at the meeting.

Officials and civic leaders participating in the Monday session included B. C. Broyles, chairman of the motor club's traffic committee, who presided; Frank Reynolds, of the Dinkler Hotel, Inc.; Captain Jack Malcom, head of the traffic department; Police Court Recorder A. W. Callaway and J. L. Cone, Walter S. McNeal, president of the South Side Civic League; R. C. Hoffman, Jr., vice president of the Atlanta Gas Light company; James B. Nevin, editor of The Georgian; John Brice, of The Journal; Dr. S. A. Visanska and Charlie Cook, of the Motor Club.

Citing the similarity of traffic needs in Atlanta and Toledo, Ohio, Mr. Reynolds, in presenting the one-way traffic plan, told of its success in Toledo and the preference recorded by its merchants at that city.

Proposing a traffic court that could devote its attention to studying Atlanta's requirements through handling all cases of traffic violations, Mr. Hoffman indicated that improvement of the present conditions meant much to the city's future growth. Insurance rates on automobiles in this city, which are more than twice what they might be, are an important factor in keeping industries that require large fleets of trucks from coming here, he asserted.

Mr. Hoffman voiced his approval of the one-way traffic system and stated that licensing of drivers of all cars, as proposed by Mr. McNeal, was "absolutely necessary, with no excuse existing for it not being required in this city."

Automobile drivers in Atlanta are worse than the lawless ones seen; they are most dangerous and most reckless," Mr. Hoffman said.

Further co-operation in observance of the present traffic laws as a preparatory step to precede the introduction of any new plans was urged by the police department's representative at the meeting. A plea to prevent unnecessary loss of life by prohibiting parking of cars on the streets overnight was made.

Mr. Nevin said that the one-way traffic system must eventually be adopted and should have been put into effect in Atlanta long ago.

Revealing of traffic law breakers, through publishing of their names in the newspapers, as inaugurated in a special column of The Constitution, was praised at the gathering. In referring to The Constitution's column, Recorder Cone stated that much inquiry had been made as to the violation in amounts of fines in parking violations. This, he explained, was governed by the flagrant of the violation. He joined with Recorder Callaway in pleading support to any plans adopted to improve the city's traffic regulations.

NAVAL EXPENDITURES SHARPLY CURTAILED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Sharp curtailment of the naval establishment in the next fiscal year became certain today. The house received from its appropriations committee the annual supply bill providing $334,342,000, out of $38,310,000 from the current year.

If approved by congress, the appointments to Annapolis would be reduced from four to three with 5,490 retained as the maximum limit of active commissioned officers. Adams recommended an increase from four to five in appointments and the addition of more than 2,000 officers.

SOUTH SIDE CIVIC BODY IN MEETING

Definite steps to center interest in the southern half of Atlanta as a residential and commercial center were taken at a meeting of the executive council of the South Side Civic League Monday night at the home of Walter S. McNeal, Jr., president of the section-wide group, with the appointment division heads and committees.

The organization will participate in all civic interests of the city, and while the president, Walter S. McNeal, Jr., has been named the federation's representative in the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, a south-side commercial body will be formed for the purpose of presenting more effectively the section's advantages as a desirable residential district and investment market.

LEGISLATOR LOSES HUSBAND TO THIEF

T. E. Phillips, of Tifton, member of the state house from Tift county, reported to police Monday night that a thief took his husband from his car as it was parked near the capitol Monday afternoon. F. G. Branch, also of Tifton, also lost his husband.

P. THORNTON MARYE HURT BY AUTOMOBILE

P. Thornton Marye, 1 Vermont road, prominent architect, was struck down and slightly injured early Monday night at Peachtree and Eleventh streets by an automobile driven by C. K. McClain, 1008 Peachtree street, according to police reports. The reports at headquarters stated that the accident was unavoidable and that no charge was preferred against the driver. Mr. Marye was merely bruised and shaken up.

NYE FINISHES PROBE OF DAVIS' ELECTION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(AP)—The senate campaign funds committee has closed its investigation of the 1930 Pennsylvania republican primary and general election and a report will be filed with the senate this week.

Chairman Nye made this announcement today with the additional statement that he would defer a move to unseat Senator James D. Davis, successful republican candidate from the Keystone state, until senators had an opportunity to study the final report.

Nye plans to offer a resolution to declare the Davis seat vacant on the ground that more than $1,000,000 was expended in behalf of the ticket headed by the former labor secretary.

50 MILLION TAFT ESTATE WILLED TO CHILDREN

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Feb. 9.—(AP) Mrs. Jane Ingalls, Cleveland, and Mrs. Louise Temple, Cincinnati, only children of the late Mrs. Charles P. Taft, were bequeathed the entire Taft estate, estimated at over $50,000,000, in the latter's will, probated today, with the exception of $14,000,000 given to the Institute of Fine Arts. Mrs. Ingalls is the wife of Albert S. Ingalls, vice president of the New York Central railroad, and the daughter is the wife of Professor William T. Temple, University of Cincinnati.

Control of the Times-Star, of which Charles P. Taft was sole owner, passed to the daughters.

Prisoner Is Ordered Sent to Two Places

Federal authorities in charge of transporting prisoners to other jurisdictions Monday were given a problem when U. S. Commissioner E. S. Griffith held Frank Duckworth, late of the federal penitentiary for removal to two places. Judge Griffith set bonds of $2,000 for Duckworth on each of the two removal cases. Duckworth is wanted in the middle district of Tennessee on a charge of breaking into a postoffice at Ozone, Tenn., and in the middle district of Georgia on a charge of possessing money, order blanks stolen from Ozone, and forging money orders. Federal officers said that he probably will be sent to Tennessee first.

NYE WILL QUESTION CANNON ACTIVITIES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(AP)—The searching gaze of a senate committee will be turned again this week on the 1928 political activities of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

Closely following a decision of twelve ministers of the church not to recommend trial of the bishop on a series of unnamed charges, Chairman Nye of the senate campaign funds committee disclosed today that he had summoned three Virginia bank officials to appear Wednesday and bring with them records of any expenditures made by Cannon in the 1928 anti-Smith drive in the Old Dominion.

PETAINE MADE CHIEF OF AERIAL DEFENSE

PARIS, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Marshal Petain, defender of Verdun during the World War, today became official head of the aerial defense of all French territory under a decree signed by President Doumergue at a meeting of the council of ministers.

The 75-year-old veteran asked that he be relieved as vice president of the superior war council and as general of armies that he might have more time for the new assignment and the government reluctantly granted his request.

FUNERAL RITES HELD FOR CHARLES A. JONES

Final rites for Charles Allen Jones, 37, son of Jerome Jones, 45 Eleventh street, editor of the Journal of Labor, were conducted at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon at the chapel of Harry G. Poole. Interment was in West View.

Mr. Jones died at police station Sunday morning after he had been found in a dazed condition on the street. A coroner's jury Monday morning established that he died from a heart attack.

In addition to his parents, Mr. Jones was survived by a brother, Jerome Jones, Jr., and his grandmother, Mrs. Sara Corley.

MCDONALD SCORES EASY VICTORY

LONDON, Feb. 9.—(AP)—The MacDonald labor government tonight obtained a majority of 45 votes in carrying the agricultural marketing bill on second reading by 258 against 213 votes. The bulk of the liberal party voted with the laborers, assuring their victory in the division.

SIMPLE HOME MIXTURE DARKENS GRAY HAIR

Cincinnati Barber Tells How Any One Can Prepare It in 5 Minutes.

Any man or woman can easily look twenty years younger by simply darkening their gray, faded, or streaky hair. This is now easy to accomplish with a recipe given by a well known Cincinnati barber.

Simply take a half-pint of water, add one ounce of bay rum, 1-4 ounce of glycerine and a small box of Barbo compound. Shake and it is ready to use. These ingredients can be bought at drug stores at trifling cost.

Applied to the hair twice weekly this delightful mixture quickly gives the desired shade. It is easy to use, is not sticky or greasy, will not color the scalp and does not rub off.—(adv.)

BOARD TO DISCUSS SLASH IN BUDGET

Schools Body To Consider
Cuts in Expenditures at Session Today.

Members of the Atlanta board of education this afternoon will be asked to sanction slashes of $185,986.08 from the first draft of the school budget for the year, as the chief business to be considered at the regular board session.

Administration officials cut $107,386.08 from the first draft, and a sub-committee of the current expenditures committee of the board added another $78,600, pushing the total to $185,986.08.

Even if this amount is taken from the budget there still will be a shortage of $885,260. The board will cut its request, if the recommendations up today are accepted, the $3,536,328, while it has a net income of $2,651,069.

No effort will be made to make a budget this afternoon, it was said Monday, because of the inability to make one without shutting down schools for several months. Payrolls are about $220,000 a month, and administrative officials estimate that the net amount which the schools are to get will not meet expense of instructional service.

In fact, if a budget were prepared based on the anticipated net receipts the schools could not reopen in the fall after closing for the summer vacation period, it was said.

So convinced are officials that relief measures will be found, either by empowering the board to raise its own finances or by participation in additional funds which the borough is expected to raise through legislative sanction, that they have asked that the board defer making any budget for the present time.

"Schools have never closed in Atlanta, and I do not believe they will," J. Ira Harremon, chairman of the current expenditures committee said. "We are planning to operate for the full year despite the apparent shortage. The money will be found some way."

Included among the items cut from the budget are the following: Twenty-four thousand five hundred dollars from instructional service and general control; $1,250 from the census and attendance department; elimination of the visual educational department; $3,000 from maintenance; and $10,000 from salary accounts in the business administration division.

"When I was all worried and alarmed about our little seven-year-old boy's cough and cold, our family doctor came in and right away prescribed Lin-O-Nine and in no time at all the cough and cold was gone."

Writes Mrs. Charles H. Goggin, 24 Lincoln Ave., Lincoln, Conn. "We have used Lin-O-Nine ever since in our home and I think it is a safe, quick and practical way of throwing off or warding off colds, coughs and colds," continued Mrs. Goggin.

P. O. CONDEMNATION CASE WEDNESDAY

Federal Judge William H. Barrett, of Augusta, Wednesday will hold court here to try condemnation proceedings against the Pike property, part of the site of the new Atlanta postoffice. The contest between the government and the property owners is based on the difference between the federal offer of $70,000 for the land and the owner's claim that a reasonable valuation is $135,000. Other parcels of the postoffice site have been condemned by friendly suit.

W. B. FENN'S BODY TAKEN TO ROCHELLE

The body of W. B. Fenn, 31, of Rochelle, who died at Grady hospital Sunday night from an attack of pneumonia, was taken to Rochelle at 9:50 o'clock Monday night for services and interment there.

According to attaches at Grady hospital, Mr. Fenn had been there for several days but insisted on leaving Sunday morning, and signed a release. Sunday night, he was returned and died a few minutes later. A post mortem revealed that he died of bronchial pneumonia, it was stated. Fenn is survived by his widow, a son, his father, three brothers and three sisters.

Your Scalp Is Entitled to
121,630 HAIRS
Does It Have Them?

If you are a blonde your scalp should have 140,000 hairs; if a red-head, 90,000 will suffice, while a brunette needs 120,000 to meet present day requirements. The average healthy head of hair should have 121,630 hairs.

Nature provides your scalp with the necessary structure to grow this quantity of hair, but you yourself must help this hair-growing structure to function properly. If you have dandruff; if your hair is falling; or if your scalp is itchy you are surely on the road to baldness.

Let Thomas help your scalp make its quota. Thomas will overcome your falling hair and actually promote hair growth on the thin and bald spots. Each day Thomas is helping more than 1,600 persons to retain or regain their normal heads of hair—and can do the same for you. Call today for a free scalp examination.

MINISTER NOW GIVES SARGON STRONG PRAISE

No matter where you go—North, East, South or West—there are thousands who testify that they owe their strength, vigor and well being entirely to Sargon. Take the case of Rev.

REV. CHAS. E. AUGER.

Chas. E. Auger, 1803 W. 2nd Ave., Spokane, Wash., who recently said: "When I started taking Sargon I was so weak and rundown I was at the point of complete exhaustion. My food disagreed with me, I hardly knew what it was to get a good night's sleep, and I seemed to lose weight and strength continually. An inactive liver and dizzy spells added to my discomfort and generally bad condition."

"Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills corrected my troubles speedily. I eat heartily, and my food agrees with me with none of that former indigestion. I have gained eight pounds and am again strong and vigorous. I gladly recommend such a worthy treatment."

Often the most obstinate cases respond immediately to this remarkable new medicine. See the Sargon Man at Jacobs' Main Store, Five Points. Sargon may be obtained at all Jacobs Stores.—(adv.)

To "Point-Up" Appetite Just Stimulate Bowels

Whenever the end of the day finds you out-of-sorts; food doesn't tempt you and won't digest; breath is bad; tongue coated; just chew a candy tablet before bedtime. Tomorrow you'll be a new person!

A candy Cascaret clears up a bilious, gassy, headachy condition every time. Puts appetite on edge. Helps digestion. Activates bowels. Cascarets are made from cascara, which authorities say actually strengthens bowel muscles. So, take these delightful tablets as often as you please; or give them freely to children. All drug stores sell Cascarets for a dime, and no dollar preparation could do better work.—(adv.)

NOTED RABBIS SPEAK AT MEETING TONIGHT

Gathering of Atlanta Jewry
To Be Held in Shearith
Israel Synagogue.

Plans for a mass meeting of Atlanta Jewry to be addressed by Grand Rabbi K. Kahan, of Poland, and Rabbi Israel L. Sappir, of Palestine, noted religious leaders and authorities, touring America in behalf of the Yeshiva (seminary) of Radin, historic Jewish center of learning were announced by Rabbi H. H. Epstein, of the Ahavath Achim synagogue.

The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock tonight in the Shearith Israel synagogue, 496 Washington street, with Rabbi Tobias Geffen presiding.

Rabbi Kahan is an authority of Roman and rabbinical law, frequently consulted by the justices of his country. He is a lecturer at the University

Fulton County Books Open for Tax Returns

Fulton county tax books have been opened by Edwin F. Johnson, tax receiver, for 1931 returns and will be open to May 1. An increase of at least 4,000 tax payers is expected this year.

The 1930 digest totaled $271,638,740, an amount exclusive of some $12,000,000 of bank property. An additional $8,000,000 to $10,000,000 increase is expected by Mr. Johnson. There were 58,000 taxpayers on the 1930 books.

Thousands Inspect Quarters Opened by First National Bank

With a public reception from 4 until 10 p. m., the First National bank opened its new headquarters at Five Points with the start of business of Monday morning.

Despite the hours announced for the public reception, thousands of friends and customers took occasion to visit the magnificent new temple of finance as soon after the opening hour of 9 in the morning as possible.

They found one of the most magnificent banking establishments in the world. Banks of flowers transformed the business establishment into the semblance of a wedding scene, tributes of blossoms having been sent by hundreds of the personal friends, and business associates of the institution.

The new quarters are a triumph for everyone connected with them, the architects who drew the plans, the builders who constructed the finished edifice and the officers of the bank who have directed the materialization of their dreams of a place ideally suited to the transaction of banking business.

It is noticeable and in thorough keeping with the spirit that has always permeated the bank, that there are no brass rails to keep timid customers away from any official, no matter how important he may be. Officials are immediately available to the public.

The tellers also have been taken out of the immemorial cages and now transact their business from behind substantial counters, where they may come in friendly contact with their customers.

Combining the previous main office, which has recently occupied temporary quarters at 25 Pryor street, N. E., and the Pryor street-Edgewood avenue branch in this new main office has necessitated that six entire floors of the building be devoted to the bank and its interests.

Transfer of the bank records and all other necessary adjuncts for the conduct of the business has been in progress for several weeks, but the greater part of it was effected over the week-end. Everything was in perfect readiness for the opening Monday morning.

The urban and suburban branch offices maintained by the First National for the convenience of its patrons will remain in their present locations. John K. Ottley, president of the bank; Thomas K. Glenn, chairman of the board, and Robert F. Maddox, chairman of the executive committee, together with other officials of the great organization, received on Monday a continuous stream of congratulations from the tens of thousands who visited the new bank headquarters.

Better Than Whiskey For Colds and Coughs

The sensation of the drug trade is Aspirinal, the two-minute relief for colds and coughs due to colds. Authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratory; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are supplied with the wonderfully elixir, so all you have to do is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk sixty cents for a bottle of Aspirinal and tell him to serve you two! Aspirinal. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel the distressing symptoms of your cold or cough fading away like a dream within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

SUNSHINE MELLOWS

Heat Purifies

LUCKIES are always kind to your throat

Everyone knows that sunshine mellows—that's why the "TOASTING" process includes the use of the Ultra Violet Rays. LUCKY STRIKE—made of the finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—THEN—"IT'S TOASTED"—an extra, secret heating process. Harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos are expelled by "TOASTING." These irritants are sold to others. They are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE. No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat.

The advice of your physician is: Keep out of doors, in the open air, breathe deeply; take plenty of exercise in the mellow sunshine, and have a periodic check-up on the health of your body.

WARD CUT BILL OUSTS OFFICIALS OF BOROUGH

Adoption by the legislature of a ward reduction plan along the lines which the electorate of Atlanta favored by a majority of nearly three to one in the general election, will be the signal for wholesale ousting of all borough officials from the mayor down to the most humble elective office, it was announced Monday by Representatives-elect George A. Eckford and William G. McRae, of Fulton county.

Despite the referendum, McRae pointed out that any change in the form of government must bear the approval of the legislature. The Key plan, which the people sanctioned at the polls, called for a reduction of wards from 13 to 6, and council from a body of 39 to 18. It is to this plan that the legislators-elect plan to add an amendment providing for legislating all present officials out of office and forcing them to run again.

In addition to the mayor and general council, many department heads would thus be forced to undergo another campaign, although many of them have several years yet to serve before their terms expire.

Eckford recently attacked the borough's plan to discontinue allowing water discounts, and McRae, as attorney for Councilman John A. White, brought an injunction suit in an effort to stop payment of $1,000 into a contingent fund for the mayor's office and another $5,000 for distribution by the Atlanta Better Business commission for relief of unemployed.

Luther Still, third member of the assembly from Fulton county, declared Monday night he had not made up his mind how he will vote on the ward reduction bill when it comes up.

CENTRAL OF GEORGIA ISSUES FARM PAPER

Announcement of a new publication, Agricultural News, by the Central of Georgia, is made by President Clift of that railroad. According to Mr. Clift, the purpose of the publication is "to furnish authentic information on agricultural subjects, in convenient form for ready reference." The principal topic of discussion is a timely article on "Winter Farming." Discussing relations between the railroads and the farmers, he says: "The Central of Georgia and other railroads work with and for the farmer in many ways. They supply him with dependable service in marketing his products. To handle these properly they make large investments in special equipment, stock pens, terminal elevators and warehouses and other facilities. They add to his markets by employing and enabling other industries to employ millions of consumers. They pay taxes which support rural schools, build highways and lighten the tax burden of the farmer."

BROKEN HIP FATAL TO W. D. STRIBLING

W. D. Stribling, 85-year-old cousin of W. L. (Young) Stribling and veteran of the War Between the States, died Monday morning at Grady hospital, where he has been ill for some weeks, following a fall at his home, 405 Cameron street, when he sustained a fractured hip.

WOULD REFER ZONING APPEALS TO BOARD

First steps in unloading routine matters so that the borough planning commission may begin functioning only as a planning body were taken Monday afternoon when the commission voted to ask the board of zoning appeals to take over all zoning activities.

R. R. Otis, chairman, declared that the commission can never function on its own if it is to be loaded down by routine matters. Council passes on all zoning matters and any recommendations, whether from the commission or the board, is subject to acceptance or rejection by council. Councilman John M. Owen, of the sixth ward, is chairman of the board of zoning appeals.

GRAND JURY TO PUSH SLOT MACHINE DRIVE

Many Complaints Received
From Parent-Teacher
Bodies and Others.

Operation of slot machines will receive further attention from the Fulton county grand jury in the near future, it was said Monday following raids by investigators in which four machines were seized.

Complaints by parent-teacher organizations and others that children have been playing the slot machines will be investigated. Numerous complaints against slot machines have been received at the office of Solicitor General John A. Boykin. Indictments against a number of persons were returned last week in the grand jury's investigation. Trials of slot machine

Heflin Praises Co-eds Who Wear Cotton Hose

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(UP)—The "boys and girls of the University of Missouri" were praised in the senate today by Senator J. Thomas Heflin, democrat, Alabama, who read a news dispatch that the co-eds had resolved to confine their spring wardrobes, including stockings, to cotton.

Heflin said they had "come to the rescue of the cotton farmer." He proposed the slogan: "Let everybody in the south wear cotton clothes from April to October."

He said such a plan would "put millions of dollars into the pockets of cotton producers."

Defendants already under indictment will be set for some time in April, it was said.

Slot machines seized Monday were in places involved in Friday's indictments, and visits to places of other operators revealed that many of the remaining machines on which indictments were based had been removed, it was said.

Terrible Case of Eczema for More Than a Year. Cuticura Healed.

"For more than a year I suffered from a terrible case of eczema. It started with small pimples on my forehead and I rubbed them and the trouble spread and formed sore eruptions which itched and burned terribly. The eczema spread to my scalp and my hair became dry and broke off. The irritation was almost unbearable."

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample of each, which I used with much success. Then I purchased a box of Cuticura Soap and a cake of Cuticura Soap and I was completely healed in less than a month." (Signed) Mrs. L. M. Brown, 1113 N. Hayne St., Pensacola, Fla., June 9, 1930.

For 17 Years We Have Never Feared Coughs and Colds

Mother of 9

Recommends Proved Medicine
Used By 184 Hospitals and Institutions

Mothers who have successfully raised a family of healthy, sturdy youngsters know the value of a proved remedy for coughs, and colds, of a body-builder that adds healthy flesh to run-down, underweight children. Mrs. Edith Lagassee, 4 Baltimore Street, Providence, R. I., writes: "I have used Father John's Medicine for the past seventeen years and can recommend it to any one for coughs and colds and keeping all the family healthy."

A Typical Case

Countless mothers throughout the land will agree with Mrs. Lagassee. They know from personal experience how Father John's Medicine forms a soothing, protective film over inflamed, congested membranes and helps to break up a cough or cold. They know how half-sick, underweight children pick right up. How growing children stay strong and sturdy, and fight off the common ills children are heir to.

A Scientific Help

Father John's Medicine is a scientific combination of proved body-builders. Because of its composition and its method of manufacture, it contains just the right amount of cod liver oil in the right form to do the most good. It contains no alcohol or drugs, so that it is safe for even an infant. And it actually tastes good.

Follow the experience of over 184 hospitals and institutions. Use this remedy that has demonstrated its value for over 75 years. Give it at the first sign of a cough or cold. Give it after illness in child or adult. Give it regularly to increase resistance to disease, to make sick spells few and far between. Just ask your druggist.

BIRTH OF A NATION BACK WITH SOUND

"THE BIRTH OF A NATION," D. W. Griffith's famous production synchronized with sound, Newmarket and short subjects.

It is about seventeen years since D. W. Griffith made "The Birth of a Nation." Many new things have come to the making of pictures since then. The art has advanced immeasurably. Yet, when the old masterpiece was shown upon the screen at the Paramount theater Monday the audience cheered and thrilled and wept, just as the audiences of nearly two decades ago did when it was first shown.

Never was there a more compelling illustration of the power of real genius to live through the years, despite changing styles and improving methods. For whatever else he has done, Griffith indubitably stamped the hall-mark of genius upon this, the greatest picture of them all, even today.

The sound synchronization adds to the thrill and to the realism. There is no doubt, except for one short sequence that has been inserted to explain the conditions in the south when the terrible days of reconstruction burst upon the stricken people.

But, sound or no sound, the fashioning though the acting is in many places, jerky and stilted though it may appear, if you can go to the Paramount this week and see the glorious old picture without moisture in your eyes, without a lump in your throat, your sensibilities are altogether too atrophied for pleasant human existence.

There is the Paramount Sound News and other short subjects to add a touch of variety to the program.

"PASSION FLOWER" SHOWN AT GRAND

"PASSION FLOWER," with Kay Johnson, Kay Francis, Charles Bickel, Lewis Stone, etc. Newmarket and short subjects.

Kathleen Norris wrote a tremendously powerful and appealing novel and called it "Passion Flower." As magazine serial and in book form it has been one of the most popular pieces of fiction of recent years.

Now Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer have taken the story and, under the same title, have made a picture that is at least as great a talkie as the novel was a story. They gave it to one of the greatest of directors, William de Mille and provided him with a cast that is nothing short of marvelous in its list of players. Any picture that has Kay Francis, Kay Johnson, Charles Bickel, Lewis Stone, and Zasu Pitts is worth anyone's time and money.

The story of the heiress who married a chauffeur and attempted to find happiness in a humble walk-up flat; of the wealthy couple who, lured by the physical attractions of the man, attempts to steal him away from the wife, and of the final dramatic outcome, makes one of the most enthralling pictures seen in several months.

It is shown in Atlanta at the Grand and the wise theatergoer will not ever look Mandy's offering for the first half of the week. It would be a great attraction in any theater.

There is a comedy short, a newsreel, etc., to round out the program.

—RALPH T. JONES.

FORUM DEBATORS REACH CITY TODAY

Dr. M. Ashby Jones, former Atlanta pastor, Rabbi Barnett R. Bricker, and Quin O'Brien, noted Chicago attorney, will be in Atlanta today, leaving late tonight for Savannah, where they are to take part in a religious forum on Wednesday night.

Clarence Darrow, fourth speaker at the forum, is already in Savannah. The forum will return to Atlanta Thursday morning, ready for the forum which will be conducted at the auditorium that night. Each of the four will speak for thirty minutes on his own form of religious belief. Dr. Jones representing Protestantism, Mr. Darrow the Agnostics, Rabbi Bricker the Jews and Mr. O'Brien the Catholics.

The debate is something new for Atlanta, though such public forums have proven immensely popular in many of the larger cities in recent years. With the spread of popular education and the universal demand for thoughtful solution of the great problems of social, public and private life, thousands have flocked to hear the greatest speakers of the day expound their views.

Special sound amplifiers are being installed at the auditorium in order that the speakers may be plainly heard in all parts of the building. With the probability of a capacity crowd all seats have been numbered and reservations may be made at Cable Piano Company for children, or at Yates and Milton Pharmacy for colored.

"SEA LEGS" AT CAMEO HILARIOUSLY FUNNY

"Sea Legs," the attraction at the Cameo through Tuesday, gives Jack Oakie everything he needs for mirth-making. It has a cargo of comedy lines it would be hard to beat anywhere. It is equipped with a series of hilarious situations. "Sea Legs" is manned and womaned, with a great fun-producing cast, Harry Green, Lillian Roth, Eugene Pallette and others.

"Sea Legs" takes Jack Oakie into the navy of a tiny republic of which no one has ever heard. He's shanghaied to fill the berth of a young millionaire slacker. The ship is home to a dozen of the captain's beautiful daughters, from which Oakie selects one to take care of his heart.

Cloudy weather in many parts of the south, coupled with overcast skies here during most of the day, seriously disrupted air mail and passenger line schedules Monday. Three scheduled arrivals were canceled and two outgoing planes were unable to leave the ground. During Monday afternoon a gusty wind sprang up which made it much more comfortable for airmen to remain indoors and discouraged flying students from building up any "time." CLUB WILL HONOR DENISHAWN GROUP
A reception for all members of the Denishawn Dancers, including Ted Shawn, the famous star, will be given by the Studio Arts Club after the recital at the Erlanger theater on Wednesday night.

The coming of Ted Shawn and the famous dancing organization for an engagement that is, because of earlier bookings, limited to one night only, is creating interest in social and art circles of the city. It appears certain that one of the most brilliant audiences of the season will be present when the program begins at 8:30 tomorrow night.

The program for the recital contains several of the dance creations which were the sensations of the Dancing Congress held at Munich last June. Ted Shawn will give his "Orpheus Dance," as well as the important "Tavocetus" and "Thunderbird" and others. Ernestine Day, the featured girl dancer, will be seen in solo dances and in duets with Mr. Shawn while the world-famous group of Denishawn girls are to present the sensational Nautch Girl dances as well as Indian, Bavarian, Spanish and other groups.

Seats are now available at the theater box office or at Phillips & Crew Piano Company.

FORMAL PREMIERE AT CAPITOL FRIDAY

The Capitol theater, which institutes a new policy of stage presentations, in addition to a feature picture, will have a formal opening premiere performance at 8:45 Friday evening, with all the effects usually associated with Hollywood and New York premieres, according to the management. WGST, Georgia Tech broadcast station, will station a microphone in the lobby and a broadcast will be made of the scene in front of the theater as the crowds enter. Motion pictures will be made, immense electric lights having been ordered for this purpose. The pictures will later be shown on the screen to the audience, showing themselves as the camera saw them earlier in the evening. The affair is to be strictly formal, and more than a thousand invitations have been sent out, the entire lower floor having been reserved for guests of the theater for the opening.

The A. B. Marcus Company, coming to Atlanta directly from a long run in Philadelphia, presenting the International Revue, with a cast of eighteen high-class principals and twenty-four girls, will present the stage show, and on the screen will be "Resurrection," Universal's picturization of Tolstoy's great story, with John Boles and Lupe Velez in the leading roles.

Cabaret Hostess Dons Men's Clothes To Seek Out and Shoot Lover, Rival

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 9.—(AP)—A cabaret hostess who as a ruse went to Gligola's clothing to another cabaret and danced with the girls was imprisoned today for shooting her lover and her rival in his affections.

The blinding pistol of a woman scorned ended the life of Maximino Aceval, frequenter of the gay little cabarets which intersperse the downtown section, and possibly fatally wounded Amelia Ruiz Terrones, the rival.

Guillermo Guerrero, who gave herself up to police, said that she and Aceval had been good friends until he met Amelia and deserted her, transferring his interest to the other cabaret.

She swore vengeance on the pair. She laid aside her hostess' frock, donned a suit of man's clothing, pocketed a pistol and went to the rival cabaret. There she danced with the girls, waiting by a table where Aceval and his new friend were slipping cognac and watching for an opportunity to take her revenge.

The night slipped by and the opportunity did not present itself. Finally early this morning Aceval and Amelia left. Guillermo halted a cab and followed them home. As they were about to enter a house she drew her gun and shot, killing Aceval instantly and gravely wounding her rival.

SEVEN NEGROES ESCAPE JAIL IN SANDERSVILLE

Wholesale "Break" Frustrated by Discovery of SANDERSVILLE, Ga., Feb. 9.—(P)—Sheriff English Monday prevented a wholesale jail delivery but seven negroes escaped before he could gain control of the situation.

The sheriff said he heard a noise and went to the front of the jail where he was informed by one of the negroes that all were leaving, having sawed their way through the steel gate and picking a hole through the brick

Hastening upstairs to the cell blocks, Sheriff English said he discovered the bars had been sawed and 12 other prisoners were fully clothed and were preparing to leave.

Sheriff English said hack saws were used in the delivery and that the sawing had required several days. He said Albert Jackson, a Fulton county negro sentenced three years ago for assault, was the ringleader.

A negro woman was arrested by the sheriff and charged with having been responsible for the transfer of saws into the jail.

A reward of $50 was offered for the

PAROLED MAN HELD IN DAWSON ROBBERIES

DONALSONVILLE, Ga., Feb. 9. (AP)—Sheriff C. L. Chandler Monday announced the arrest of Walter Howard McKay here on information from Dawson that McKay was wanted there for the theft of several hundreds

The sheriff said McKay was a narcotic addict and was about 35 years old and papers found on him show he was paroled from the Florida state prison in 1930.

McAfee, the sheriff said, worked last year in Georgia, Florida and South Carolina as a salesman of fountain pens and cosmetics in drug stores. He was accompanied by a woman, the sheriff said, claiming to be his wife. They were driving an old automobile without a license when arrested.

ATLANTA, GA., TUESDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 10, 1931.

Carey Spicer Leads Kentucky to 38-34 Victory Over Tech Tech Spring Grid Practice Begins With 61 Candidates on Hand

KENTUCKY WINS OVER TECH, 38-34; SPICER IS STAR

Wildcat Leader Scores 20 Points; Perkins, Gooding Tech's Best.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Feb. 9.—(AP)—Captain Carey Spicer, of the Kentucky Wildcats, returned to town tonight and scored 20 points to lead his team to victory over Georgia Tech, 38 to 34, in a Southern conference basketball game.

The victory, Kentucky's sixth, left the Wildcats undefeated in the conference.

The lead changed hands three times in the first half, six times in the second, and the score was tied four times in each period. The score at intermission was 21-21. Tech's defeat was caused by many personal fouls and inability to connect with free throws allotted them.

Kentucky was leading 26-25 when Tate, Tech guard, was ejected from the game for personal fouls. When the score later was 32-32, Perkins, Tech center, was ejected, weakening the Georgia team. Tech made eleven personal fouls to Kentucky's seven.

Spicer made two free throws on Perkins' final foul. Darby, who then substituted for Spicer, made a field goal, and Brownson made two free throws to make the score 38-32.

Phillips looped one in from the floor on the last minute to end Tech's scoring.

Trojan Trackmen Will Invade East

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 9.—(NANA)—The University of Southern California is likely to invade the east with another fine track team this season. In all dual meets, Hank Wykoff will run both the 100 and 220; but in the intercollegiate meets, he probably will use Wykoff only in the century dash, to keep him from running himself out in the numerous heats. Other sprinters on the team will be Maurer, Delby, Said and Guyer, all fast men.

In the 440, Southern California will have Vic Williams, Art Woessner, Bob Dubbel, Lee Bastajian and Dick Wehner. Bill McGeehan will be the most likely contender for the mile. Cliff Halstead is the runner upon whom dependence will be placed in the mile. Ernie Payne, Bill Carls, Bill Stokes and Berry, freshman star, will be the Southern California hurdlers.

Bob Hall in the shot, Jesse Mortensen in the javelin, and Howard and Dick Barber in the broad jump, will be the Trojan standbys in field events.

S. E. A. A. Ring Meet Draws Large Entry

More than 50 entries are expected in the Southern Eastern Athletic Union meet which will begin Thursday at the Atlanta Athletic Club and continue through Saturday.

The entry list may climb near the century mark. Birmingham, Nashville, Mobile and other southern cities will be represented. Fort Benning expects to send a team of about 20.

Joe Bean, director of athletics, declares that the club is planning for a record-breaking list of fighters.

The championships are sanctioned by the A. A. U. and will be held under A. A. U. rules. Mike Chambers and Steve Hartney will referee. In addition to the two for the title, as referees, Joe Bean, H. J. Stegeman and W. R. Hanna, the latter from Tennessee, are members of the boxing committee.

Entries should be mailed to the club in care of George Griffin, chairman of the registration committee. All fighters will weigh in at 10 o'clock Thursday morning at the Athletic Club.

Olympic Ring Trials Set at Soldiers' Field

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Soldiers' field of Chicago today was selected by the Olympic boxing committee as the site for the final trials to select a team to represent the United States in the 1932 Olympic games at Los Angeles.

The dates were fixed at about July 15-16—the same dates selected by the track committee for the final trials and field trials. The Illinois Athletic Club, the Chicago Athletic Association, the Madison Athletic Club, the Lake Shore Athletic Club and the Midwest Athletic Club, all of Chicago, agreed to jointly conduct the tournament and turn over the receipts to the Olympic committee.

For the past two Olympics, the teams were selected from the National A. A. U. championships. This year, tournament, national colleges and two from the Army and Navy championships and any other organization entitled to recognition will be eligible to try for the Olympic team.

William P. Kenney, of Boston, was elected permanent chairman.

FRANCE'S CHAMPION LOSSES

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 9.—(AP)—Paul Keller, France's 800 meter champion, made his American debut tonight but finished far back of the flying feet of the Edwards, who won from Hamilton, Ont., in the 1,000-yard special event at the Seton Hall indoor games.

Grantland Rice, on his recent visit to south Georgia, expressed great interest in the forthcoming exhibition match in which Bobby Jones, Horton Smith, Gene Sarazen and John Golden will figure February 18 at East Lake.

On his return to New York he wrote to Mrs. Turner Jones, chairman of the Junior League committee that is sponsoring the match for the benefit of the Egleston Memorial hospital, congratulating the league on arranging such an interesting contest. He said:

"In Bobby Jones' first match since he retired from tournament competition, for the time being, it so happens that he makes a start with three of the finest professionals in golf. There are certainly no two finer pros or two more colorful competitors than Horton Smith and Gene Sarazen. Both have had brilliant records with a high average of performances for the last two years. John Golden, who pairs with Bobby, recently won first prize in the $25,000 Agua Caliente tournament, and is a much finer golfer than the public at large seems to know. Golden is a great shot-maker and always reliable and dependable. This should be one of the most interesting golf matches of the entire year."

This match will attract nationwide interest. For the day attention of the golfing world will be turned on Atlanta to see how the retired emperor wields his clubs for the first time since his abdication.

INSIDE DOPE.

This corner is indebted to Jimmy Jones, of the Macon Telegraph, for relaying track-side information of an intimate nature about Captain Campbell's sensational dash for a world's record of 245 miles an hour on the sands of Daytona:

"It takes Captain Campbell three miles to stop his car after he runs past the final post.

"He salutes his mechanic whenever he meets him.

"It cost him approximately $150,000 to set the record and Buddy thinks the English government is backing him.

"Campbell expects to make a half million out of the venture.

"Campbell used American gas for his machine."

THEY ALL HAVE SCHEDULE GRIEF.

Remember the old-fashioned moans of grief that used to arise from Spiller Field over the playing schedule and the necessity of jumping about all over the league to play their Sunday dates?

Many of us imagined it was just a bush league malady; that major league schedules were better arranged through long practice.

But one reads where the Pittsburgh Pirates have cause for wailing and gnashing of teeth this year. They must spend 36 nights in Pullman berths. And they must play five games in four cities on four consecutive days.

However, they have no corner on hard luck, for the St. Louis Cardinals have to play six games in four different cities on four consecutive days.

And a minor awkward arrangement from a St. Louis standpoint is that the Cincinnati Reds will have finished their 14 games in St. Louis by July 11, approximately the half-way mark.

PERHAPS.

An eastern writer sees in the hue and cry against over-emphasis of college football a great break for professional game. If the agitation from faculty sources actually results in pushing intercollegiate football into the background, an increase in interest in the pro game is seen. That, of course, is a thought.

REWRITE THE LINES.

Carter Barron, who manages the Fox theater (see adv. about the sizzling G-r-b.), has his gentlemanly ushers do a fine stunt this week. They march up from the pit singing "The Maine Stein Song," go into "Glory to Old Georgia" and conclude with "Rambling Wreck." It is a great smash and all that. But if he will teach them to say something besides "You'll find better seats in the balcony, please," it would be a wow.

Two Brothers Follow Brothers as Jackets

"Gonk" Gardner and Young Tharpe Out for Places on Team in Spring Work.

By Ralph McGill.

IN THE football renaissance which Jacket coaches are attempting at the Flats this week there are a couple of kid brothers coming along to take up where their older brothers left off.

And each is expected to accelerate the renaissance of the pigskin arts and sciences at the Flats.

Both have chosen the same positions their brothers occupied when they were wearing the old mustard-colored jerseys for Tech.

George Gardner rounded out a fine career as captain of the 1924 Tech football team. He played at tackle and end.

Monday afternoon "Gonk" Gardner, 180 pounds of animated and interested youth, appeared for the first spring practice of the season. He was a tackle on the 1930 freshman team.

THE 1926 football team saw Mack Tharpe finish up his career as one of the best tackles the Flats had seen in some years.

Monday afternoon R. H. Tharpe, as big as life and twice as natural, appeared with the spring squad. He has serious intentions on the tackle position his brother played.

"They were both fine players for me," said Alva (Kid) Clay, the freshman coach. "They have a lot of drive and power, they like the game and they will make things interesting for any competitors. I think they will see service with the varsity as well as some of the other freshmen if they keep working as hard as they did last fall."

COACHES at the Flats hope that the freshmen will not become imbued with any exalted idea of their own importance. At least one south-southwesterner, former president of the New York Athletic Club.

JACKET STARS SEEK NATIONAL TRACK HONORS

Prospects Bright at Tech. Hamm Stirs Interest in Track Events.

By Ralph McGill.

Georgia Tech will enter the national track competition in the Penn relays and the national collegiates, it was announced Monday by Track Coach Ed Hamm, holder of the Olympic broad-jumping title.

Hamm gives every indication of succeeding where other track coaches at the Flats have failed. He is awakening interest in track and field sports to a point of genuine enthusiasm.

Pat Shields, former Tech High boy and now a sophomore at Georgia Tech, is one of the men being closely watched by Hamm. Shields has done 12 feet with the pole vault this winter and has not yet tried for a better mark. Hamm believes he will place first in every dual meet of the year. He will be sent to both the Penn relays and the national collegiates and Hamm is confident that the boy will place there if not actually win the vault event.

GRIDMEN SHINE.

Football men are showing up well in track. The mile relay team is likely to include Doug Graydon, Pat Barron and at least one other member of the 1930 football team. There are several men in competition for the remaining places.

Graydon, if he can escape an injury claim, will be developed in the broad jump. Hamm's old specialty. Graydon did better than 24 feet in the national collegiates last spring. He is not expected to enter the javelin throw if his jumping develops.

Tom Cain, substitute fullback, is another football man whom Hamm thinks is destined to become a star with the team. Cain is steadily increasing his distance with the discus. Assey Jones, substitute end, is putting the shot better than 40 feet and expects to be up around 44 feet and the record before the season is done.

BOYS LOOK GOOD.

Athletes with track as a specialty also showed exceptional ability. Ed Foxhall is running the low hurdles well. Three distance men, Osburne, Gigenheim and Reid are also cutting down the time in their events each week.

The first trials are scheduled for Thursday.

Debutants have their first dual meet of the year with Furman on April 11. North Carolina follows the next week. Both meets are in Atlanta.

On May 2 is the second dual meet. The team participates in the Southwestern A. A. U. at Grant field April 25. A dual meet with the University of Virginia is scheduled for May 15 and 17 closes the outdoor season.

The indoor meet at North Carolina will be run March 7. Tech will be one of the favorite teams at the indoor meet.

Smithies, Purples Head Court Card

Tech High and Boys' High will meet in the feature of a prep basketball card of five games scheduled for this afternoon on various courts in the city.

The Smithies and Purples clash at 3 o'clock on the Henry Grady court, while the B teams of G. M. A. and Boys' High are slated to complete the double-header.

Three games will be played in the N. G. I. C. with Russell meeting Fulton on the Wesley Memorial court, Marietta playing Marietta on the Marietta court and University engaging Commerce on the University School court.

Tech High and Boys' High were scheduled to meet Wednesday afternoon in the ninth round on the Big Three, but the date was moved up in order to allow Tech High to play in the N. G. I. C. last night.

Five teams are closely bunched in the N. G. I. C. standings, and results of the three games today can affect the places.

Jim McMillen Wins Over Hans Steinke

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Another capacity house of 10,000 jammed the Tenth Regiment armory tonight to see Jim McMillen, former University of Illinois athlete, defeat Hans Steinke, German giant, in a finish wrestling match.

McMillen subdued the Teuton with a series of flying tackles in 30 minutes 4 seconds. Steinke weighed 240 pounds; McMillen 216.

Bob To Receive Trophy At Dinner in Chicago

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Bobby Jones, monarch of golf, will receive James E. Sullivan Memorial trophy, awarded by the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States, at a testimonial dinner in Chicago February 25.

Avery Brundage, president of the A. A. U., tonight announced the date for the presentation and said Jones had wired from his home in Atlanta that he would come to Chicago for the affair.

Getting Ready for the Baseball Grind

Four perspiring athletes are shown above at work in Bill Daley's health club, getting ready for the 1931 baseball season. Left to right, Dick Niehaus, free agent, who used to pitch for the Crackers; Lefty Willis, pitcher, who was with Columbus two seasons ago; Bob Smith, Atlanta boy and major league star, who leaves the Braves for the Cubs this season, and "Wildboy" Thompson, catcher, who had several trials last summer.

LOVEJOY LEADS IN CUE TOURNAMENT

Smyrna Man Wins Over Two Opponents To Top Field.

By Herb Clark.

Paul Lovejoy, of Smyrna, flashed into the lead in the Southeastern three-cushioned billiard tournament being held at the Shrine Mosque, by downing two opponents in matches Monday.

Lovejoy trounced C. K. Faucett, of Chattanooga, 50-27, in 87 innings in an afternoon match and came back to beat out Frank Moore, also of Chattanooga, at 50-31 in 75 innings last night.

H. N. Purdy, of Atlanta, and George Bruner, of Birmingham, are tied in second place, each having won a single match on the Monday program of four matches.

Purdy nosed out Moore, 50-45 in 108 innings, in the afternoon, while Bruner beat Tommy Johnson, of Chattanooga, 50-44 in 96 innings, in the first of the evening matches.

The Lovejoy-Faucett match, first on the day's schedule, saw the Smyrnan step into the lead at the start of the play and pile up a safe margin with easy skill. Lovejoy compiled a high run of six while Faucett's best run was four.

Purdy and Moore took the table all through the long match. Purdy made a high run of five to beat Moore's best effort by a single billiard.

Opening the evening card, Johnson started slowly but surely and led Bruner until the pair reached the 40 neighborhood. Bruner took the advantage at 42-39 by a run of four, his best, and did not yield from that point until his last. Johnson's high run was one of three.

Lovejoy took his leading position in the final match of the day, starting rapidly and making a high run of 15, disposing of his younger and game opponent. Moore's high run was one of four.

Bernard E. Fritz, winner of the Southeastern meet last year, was prevented from coming here to defend his title, which leaves the field wide open.

Lovejoy plays but one match on today's program, facing Johnson in the second of the afternoon's matches. Purdy and Faucett open the schedule in a 2 o'clock match. Faucett meets Bruner at 7 o'clock to open the evening card, with Johnson and Moore playing the final match, slated to start at 9 o'clock.

Fifteen matches are to be played in all. Four more are on the slate for Wednesday, with the remaining three to be played Thursday. Each of the six entrants in the tourney, one of seven being held throughout the country to select entries for the national tournament, will play each other in the round robin affair. Should there be a tie for first place, the winners will play off in a final match Thursday night.

The winner of the meet will play the seven other sectional champions and Robert B. Harper, of Denver, national champion, in the national tournament to be held during the week of March 27. The place has not yet been set. Billiard Association is sponsoring the sectional meets as well as the national championship event.

G. R. Collins, of Chicago, president of the national body, is in Atlanta to personally supervise the Southeastern sectionals.

Campbell Leaves For Gotham Today

DAYTONA BEACH, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Captain Malcolm Campbell's 1,400 horsepower super-car, Bluebird II, in which he set a new world's speed record on Daytona Beach last week, and his diminutive British Austin, were crated up and shipped by freight to New York today, preparatory to being returned to England by steamship.

Captain Campbell was guest of honor at a testimonial dinner given by citizens of Daytona Beach tonight. The British racer-plan to leave for New York early tomorrow.

DETROIT SIGNS CHICK SHIVER

Georgia End Coach Will Report at Tiger Training Camp.

ATHENS, Ga., Feb. 9.—Chick Shiver, end coach of the Georgia Bulldogs, and former All-American football star, today signed a contract to play baseball with the Detroit Tigers of the American league. He will report at training quarters in Sacramento, Cal., early in March.

Shiver, who started with the Georgia baseball team, played with Beaumont of the Texas league last season and hit considerably better than .300, the better part of his blows going for extra bases. An outfielder with a good fielding average, Shiver is rated as one of the best of the younger ball players. He signed with Detroit for a free agent, not having been under a Beaumont contract. Tom Nash, All-American end of the Bulldogs at the same time as Shiver, will be given a tryout by the New York Giants this season, having been drafted last October.

Bambino Arrives, Arranges for Golf

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 9.—(AP)—George Herman Ruth, St. Petersburg's most widely known winter resident, arrived here this afternoon for his annual pre-baseball sessions on the links. The big Yankee slugger immediately went to the Jungle Country Club hotel, where he spends his winters, and began a conference with Joe Sehn, links professional at the Jungle course, prior to taking off on his first 36-hole round early in the morning.

Asked about his plans during his stay in St. Petersburg, the Babe had nothing to say other than "I am down here to play golf until the Yankees get here and I hope to be in the best condition of recent years when Manager Joe McCarthy and the boys start preparing for the American league season."

"I weigh around 222 pounds; quite a few under my usual weight at this time of the year, and I intend to start the American league season at around 215 pounds."

Ruth arrived late this afternoon, accompanied by Mrs. Ruth, Miss Julia Ruth and Mrs. Juanita Ellis, daughter of a former Mexican president.

Carnera Arrives For Miami Bout

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 6.—(AP)—Primo Carnera, giant Italian, arrived here tonight to prepare for his March 5 fight with Jimmy Maloney, Boston heavyweight.

Carnera was greeted by Frank J. Ryan, promoter of the bout, and a throng of fans who jammed the railroad station. He will start training for the bout within a few days. Maloney has been here for some time.

COACHES SHIFT MEN IN OPENING DAY'S SESSION

Millions, Ezell To Be Tried as Tackles in Drill.

By Ed Danforth.

Winter weather and spring football practice came to Grant field yesterday. In climate that might have passed for a bitter afternoon on a northern stadium, 41 Yellow Jackets donned the old mustard-colored jerseys for the first spring workout of the season. More tomorrow.

W. A. Alexander began his twelfth season as head coach at the Flats by wasting no time at all. After a short period of calisthenics he sent the centers, guards and tackles to work on the field in charge of Jack Cannon, line coach, and the backs and ends to the other in charge of Captain H. W. Robinson, end coach. In no time the young men were being instructed in fundamentals.

LARGE SQUAD.

With nearly all the tackles and guards swept away by graduation, much attention will center this spring on the development of the rush line. A hasty survey of Coach Cannon's crew showed 14 tackles, 11 guards and four centers at work on the fundamentals of line play.

Prominent in the tackle group were Clint Ezell and Bull Millions, who were guards last year. Ezell was a regular guard all through his sophomore year but Coach Alexander has moved him into the tackle group for grooming in the more ample play of that position. Millions has been used at both tackle and guard on the reserve but has never made the varsity grade. He is a fine physical specimen and may be a backstop in the future.

Coach Cannon made a fine impression his first day out. He got down and mixed it up with his men, teaching them the tricks of the gentle art of flopping an enemy lineman on the sole of his pants as practiced at Notre Dame.

BACKFIELD WORK.

Toward the close of the workout Coach Alexander joined Captain Robinson with the mob of ends and backs and personally conducted a few lessons in manipulating the football.

In the backfield, players numbering over 20, were several stars of the undefeated freshman team—Ferguson, Peterson, Galloway and others. On the sides the entire personnel of the sophomores of last fall, who did most of the ball juggling.

Bobby Dodd, the new backfield coach, will report to the season and conduct a special session for backfield men in training and passing.

Practice will be held daily for six weeks. It is expected that the sophomores at that July 50 will be on hand daily at 4 o'clock. Tech's problem is centered on re-building a rushline that was five-sevenths gone by graduation and fitting together a new backfield combination.

MARBLE TO HELP.

Yancey Marble, All Conference tackle last year, expects to report today in uniform to assist in coaching.

Freshmen out Monday were: G. A. Breeffelt, L. W. Robert, Jr., O. S. Hoffman, J. G. Mills, O. B. Snyder, J. B. Pierson, G. W. Rutland, J. D. Sifford, F. R. Davidson, L. C. Cline, J. Ferguson, S. G. Quillian, J. L. Gravelle, F. E. McGowan, J. G. Futrell, P. J. Negrie, S. C. Finn, W. B. Peterson, R. H. Tharpe, C. M. Galloway, P. McCoy, "Gong" Gardner, Wink Davis, R. J. Warner, R. J. Hoyer, R. A. Wardlaw, O. S. Williamson, J. M. Poole and S. B. Wilson.

Upperclassmen, most of them veterans of just seasons, were: J. Q. Adams, J. P. Corn, L. S. Vair, J. Adair, H. L. Allen, A. H. Weatherford, Sam Fincher, D. H. Smith, F. H. Croner, J. A. Branch, W. H. Moffett, H. H. C. McKeth, E. J. Flowers, Joe Stegman, J. W. Harrison, C. F. Southern, Ed Wooten, J. G. Mills, Ben Cherry, W. R. Dobbins and Froggy Morton.

American Rider Wins British Race

BIRMINGHAM, England, Feb. 9.—(AP)—G. H. (Pete) Bowstick, amateur rider from the United States, brought his own horse, Sir Crispin, down to the judges' tree lengths in front of Sir F. Freake's Gleesome in the Yardey handicap hurdle race at two miles today.

The race was won by 250 sterling ($1,250), and Sir Crispin paid 4 to 1. Bowstick has yet to meet defeat in his winter campaign on English tracks.

Stadium Debts Cause Overemphasis--Stagg

TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 9.—(AP)—Alonso A. Stagg, veteran football coach of the University of Chicago, arrived here today to participate in the annual Dixie tennis tournament only to find that the annual meeting of the national football rules committee in New York Thursday will prevent him from swinging a racket on the local court.

Mr. Stagg thinks most of the talk about the overemphasis of football is nothing more than newspaper hokum, concocted by the sports writers to fill space in off seasons.

"You hear it every season," he said today. "Some years it is worse than others, depending on what is going on in athletics during the off-season."

"The newspapers can always find professors willing to take up the cudgel to rap football. There is very little to it.

"The only way I see that football is overemphasized is in regard to the paying of the expenses of the players. Some of the schools carry this to the extreme, and they are to blame, not the youngsters. I can't see that big stadiums and huge crowds come under the head of over-emphasis. That is, except when the colleges recruit the players for the express purpose of producing winning teams and thereby paying off stadium debts."

Carnera Arrives For Miami Bout

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 6.—(AP)—Primo Carnera, giant Italian, arrived here tonight to prepare for his March 5 fight with Jimmy Maloney, Boston heavyweight.

Carnera was greeted by Frank J. Ryan, promoter of the bout, and a throng of fans who jammed the railroad station. He will start training for the bout within a few days. Maloney has been here for some time.

Scrimmage on Week's Program for Georgia's Spring Grid Card

'RAJAH' HORNSBY IS NOT WORRIED ABOUT CHANCES

Will Not Predict A Cub Victory; Says Hurlers Are Okay.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Rogers Hornsby, Chicago Cubs baseball manager, isn't willing to predict that his team will win the National league pennant this year, but frankly says there "is nothing to worry seriously about."

The Rajah settled down to spring training today a few hours after his arrival here and said the pitching staff which he would take over to Santa Catalina island a week from tomorrow probably was better than that of last season.

Perce (Pat) Malone of the pitching roster, already in Los Angeles.

MALEER MARRIES.
YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Feb. 9.—(AP)—The marriage of James R. McAleer, former manager of the Washington Senators and St. Louis Browns, and owner of the Boston Red Sox until 1913, to Miss Georgianna Rudge, local musician, was announced today.

New Orleans Lifts Sunday Race Ban

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 9.—(AP)—The long-standing ban against Sunday racing in New Orleans will be lifted next week to boost the local unemployment fund.

The Louisiana Jockey Club and the city commission council announced jointly today that a special racing card would be run at the Fair Grounds next Sunday, with all receipts going toward the New Orleans welfare committee's $400,000 relief fund.

The event, scheduled in the midst of the carnival celebration, will be the first Sunday racing permitted here in many years.

DUKE 'DEVILS' ON ROAD TRIP

DURHAM, N. C., Feb. 9.—Although shorn of their lead in North Carolina's Big Five race, the Duke Blue Devils were not disheartened when they left here this morning for Nashville, Tenn., where they will battle Vandy tomorrow night.

SAUER, KHAN'S FOE IS RATED NEAR CHAMPION

Grappler Who Meets Ghafoor Wednesday Has Great Record.

Pete Sauer, who wrestles Ghafoor Khan here Wednesday night, is generally selected as the next world's champion by the critics who have seen him in action during the past two years.

Sauer is known in the east as Ray Steele. Before that he was billed as "The Masked Marvel." The story behind his three names has to do with his family. There was violent objection to his decision to enter the ring as a wrestler. Promoters aided him by sending him out as "The Masked Marvel." When he became too good to hide behind a mask he informed all his family of his deception. That is all but his mother. He wrestled as Ray Steele and is still billed by that name in many cities in the east.

He adopted his own name more than two years ago, following his mother's death, and the name Sauer is gradually supplanting "Steele."

Sauer tells of an eastern writer who approached him one night after a match in the south. "Steele," said the writer, "why don't you take on this fellow Sauer who is cleaning them up in the south?"

"I'm Sauer," said the big fellow, and the story was out.

Sauer meets a tough one in Ghafoor Khan, Jim London was offered the match with Sauer when Matchmaker Weber found it necessary to substitute someone for Bill Barthush, out with a bad leg. London refused Sauer. So did Jim McMillin. Ghafoor Khan accepted the substitution and the match.

In the semi-windup Paul Jones, the popular Texan, will meet Charley Lehman, another Texan. Lehman made himself unpopular in his defeat of Nick Veleoff and the fans will be pulling for Jones to have his scissors sharpened when they meet.

Tickets are on sale at the Piedmont Hatters and at the Candler building soda fountain.

ern team had its past season wrecked last fall.

In 1929 Vanderbilt had a large freshman football class. The varsity that season was being kicked around very rudely indeed. The newspapers began to overemphasize the freshmen. The freshmen were written up all winter and began to feel that they were very important beings and entirely necessary to the general scheme of things.

At the start of the 1930 season there were five of the 1929 freshmen on the varsity. They helped defeat Minnesota. And that was the end. They staggered through to a fairly successful season but they learned that they were just young boys trying to learn a game they didn't know a great deal about.

Consequently the Tech coaches will not overemphasize the freshmen. Even if they are good they won't like it.

Hastings, Rainwater Join Dodo Club

H. Stanley Hastings, one of the vice presidents of the H. G. Hastings Co., joined the ranks of the Dodo Club Sunday at the James L. Key course, sinking his tee shot on No. 7, a 145-yard hole.

Hastings and Rainwater are both bearing up well under the strain. Both are eligible for a number of prizes. And a certificate of membership in the Dodo Club.

MAX SCHMELING CARD COMPLETE

Forty rounds of boxing will be offered by Max Schmeling on the flat show at the City Auditorium February 17, that is headed by Max Schmeling, the world's champion, in person.

The two headline bouts already have been announced and approved by the city boxing commission. Jack Tunney, of Birmingham, will meet Mike Firpo, of Havana, in 10 rounds. Ted Goodrich, of Atlanta, and Johnny Flynn, of Chattanooga, will meet in a mill of the same length.

Promoter Abelson announced the rest of his card yesterday. Blondy Parker, a whirlwind scrapper from Fort Rucker, will be pitted with Casey Jones, the Atlanta welter, in a six-rounder. Cliff Townes, Billy Lotz's hard hitting 130-pounder who has floored all the lads in his class at the power company gymnasium, has been matched with Jackie Nichols, of Rome, in six rounds. A four-round scrap between two good colored boys and a battle royal will complete the card.

Of greatest interest to the crowd is the three-round exhibition match that will be staged by Max Schmeling. The champion is taking a nation-wide tour as a preparatory course for his championship fight with Young Stribling in June. Manager Joe Jacobs will have him show his wares here in the heart of the Stribling country and expects to convince fans that W. L. will not have it all his own way when they meet for the crown.

Johns Hopkins Ends Sports Wrangle Today

BALTIMORE, Feb. 9.—(AP)—A fight at Johns Hopkins University to remove intercollegiate competition in football has nearly reached a climax.

A committee appointed by Dr. Joseph S. Ames, president of the university, is to meet tomorrow and a decision may be forthcoming. Dr. Ames has indicated he will abide by the committee's decision.

On one side are 40 or more members of the faculty, while the undergraduate students comprise the bulk of forces fighting for retention of intercollegiate competition.

Intercollegiate football has been played by the undergraduates for 40 years with only fair success. The college is overshadowed by the graduate and professional schools of medicine, engineering and others.

AUGUSTA PLANS PAIR OF MAJOR GOLF TOURNEYS

Women's Event, Open Meet Slated for Play in March.

AUGUSTA, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Augusta becomes the golfing center of Georgia late in March as the stars of the professional and amateur brigades and the feminine ranks gather here for two major tourneys.

The women's event is scheduled first, with the starting date set for March 16. It will continue for three days. This tourney, the women's invitation event, is one of the few 72-hole medal play events listed in the south for women during the winter season.

The field is expected to be as filled with stars of the first class as the Southern Pines, N. C., tournament last spring, which drew a list of contestants almost as formidable as the national championship. Maureen O'Connell, who won this tournament, will be among those favored to finish high in the Augusta tournament.

NOTED PLAYERS.
Glenns Collett, American champion, will lead a host of other well known performers in the chase after top honors here. Peggy Wattles, of Buffalo, now enjoying a fine competitive season in Florida, is also among those who have made known their intentions of participating in this event.

The first thirty-six holes of this tourney will be played over the Hill course at the country clubs with the final 36 over the Ricker links.

The southeastern open, inaugurated in 1930, should be a better tourney, from a competitive standpoint, this year than in its opening event since Bobby Jones, who won it with ease last year by 13 strokes, will not be entered.

SPLIT PLAY

The first 36 of this 72-hole medal play event will be held over the Ricker course, with the last 36 over the country club links.

Abel Espinoza, recent winner of the Texas open, Johnny Olsen, winner at Agua Caliente, Horton Smith, who was high professional in the first event here last year; Johnny Farrell, former open champion; Ed Dudley, winner of the Los Angeles open, and other prominent cash performers will be in the field which starts the chase after the champion's share of the $5,000 prize money.

This Augusta men's event comes on the close of the winter season in Florida and will draw virtually all of the army of professionals concluding their annual money tour of the country.

50 Golfers To Qualify In Pinehurst Play

PINEHURST, N. C., Feb. 9.—(UP)—A field of 50 veteran golfers will begin qualifying tomorrow in the eleventh annual seniors' tournament.

Entry of Dr. George Gregg, Oakmont Country Club, Pittsburgh, today increased interest in the meeting.

J. Pryor Williamson, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., announced tonight he would defend his senior's title, won last year.

THE SPORTLIGHT

By Krawtzen Rice

Rainbow's End.
I doubt not that the Spanol
Years from our shores, in that he might
Achieve a certain wealthy goal
By means of having Muchos fight.

In Greece, they say, the strong boys gaze
To westward—where the dollars grow,
And long to spend their youthful days
In laying various champions low.

The French are much less than verse
To coming to our rings for tag,
The object being that old curse,
Which evil fills a certain bag.

In England many lads assume
An optimistic sort of air
When they are told there be much room
To fight and cash in over there.

In Italy, in Portugal,
In Sweden and in Switzerland,
It li-e-e-e-l-y beats the band.
'Tis natural, then, that they should turn
And scan horizons (that means us)
Where we have money, and to burn (?)
And spend it on the fighting fuss.—A. W. E.

Ruth and 1931.
FOR some reason last summer, down the stretch where usually he is at his best, Babe Ruth quit firing homers and Hack Wilson slipped well past him. Ruth is now getting ready to go after Hack and his old crown once more, and he believes that he has at least one big season left in his system.

Home-run hitting will be harder work this season. The heavier seam on the ball will give the pitcher a much better gripping surface and he will be able to get his curve breaking faster and sharper, which is no help to any slugger. The home-run hitter must take his full cut at the ball and this is no easy matter when a fast-breaking curve comes up, but it will also cut down the totals of the others.

Hack Wilson will be up against an even greater handicap as the heavier cover will take some of the liveliness from the ball.

Three weeks of golf in the south will help to get the Babe's legs ready for another campaign, and that is all he has to worry about. The old eye and arm are still intact. His legs so far have held up remarkably when you consider the amount of weight set upon such comparatively slender underpinning.

But no veteran knows at just what point the spring departs from his legs, thereby removing all active transportation.

A New Record Holder.
IF GEORGE SPITZ, of N. Y. U., can jump 6 feet 7 inches as a freshman he should be on his way to smash every high jump record ever had about before he is through and has had his chance to improve later on.

The N. Y. U. freshman not only has a great pair of legs but he has picked up the right form which so few get in the earlier stages.

He should be able to equal or pass 6 feet 8 by another year, and this is getting up in the air.

No Leader Yet.
THE winter golf season so far has developed no outstanding star who might be on his way to pick up the domination of the game that Bobby Jones surrendered. Guldhall, the young Texan, won one of the first of the western tournaments. Ed Dudley won the $10,000 Los Angeles open. Golden and Von Elm cleaned up in the Agua Caliente affair. Abel Espinoza came through in Texas and now Craig Wood adds another.

There has been a general scattering of winners. Horton Smith has been hammering at the door with a fine average, but he has been unable to hit the fast streak he knew two years ago when he won six or seven in a row.

The bunch will soon be in Florida and here the campaigning will be still harder with such stars as Tommy Armour, Gene Sarazen and Johnny Farrell added to the list. One dominant figure may emerge from the Florida and southeastern campaign, but so far he hasn't stepped out from the mass.

Eight Years Later.
A DAY or two ago Jack Dempsey stepped in to be measured for a new suit. "I don't think there will be any change," his tailor said, "but we'll take your measurement anyway." At the conclusion of this act it was found that Dempsey's waistline and his other measurements were exactly as they were back in 1923 when he

FIVE ELEVENS LEARN SYSTEM FOR FALL PLAY

Football Fundamentals Occupy Boys as Coaches Supervise Practice.

By Al Smith.
ATHENS, Ga., Feb. 9.—Firm believers that a lot of work is good for their physical welfare, Georgia's 50 and more potential football stars today began six days of activity that will terminate Saturday in the first scrimmage of spring training for the youngsters who are trying for the varsity squad during the coming fall football campaign.

Five teams were in action around Sanford field today as the boys closed their work by running signals with the plays they already know and the ones that Georgia mentors have managed to teach them during the brief week they've been in action.

Football fundamentals, the usual punting and passing and hard sessions at the tackling dummy and the bucking board are being emphasized this week as the boys round into fit shape for that first scrimmage of the week which will give them their opportunity, the very first of the year—to shine before the coaches who are guiding their football destinies. And so the boys will be willing to put out all they have at this early period to make that first impression which may not be so lasting but which will at least give them opportunity aplenty to earn words of approbation.

Heavy practices are held each afternoon between 4 o'clock and supper time, and the boys spend about two hours of their leisure time on the football field, with plenty of time left for other forms of amusement in the evening. The present routine will be continued through Friday, but will be changed somewhat after Saturday's scrimmage.

Derby Trial Handicap To Attract Fine Field
NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 9.—Due to the fact that the three-year-old division is more formidable than in previous years, the Derby trial handicap, mile and a sixteenth race scheduled for February 14 at the fair grounds, promises to prove the best in the history of the stake.

With Spanish Fly, Chess, Malalta, Hyman, Brass Monkey, Burgo, Michigan Girl, Donny Johnny, Fly Guy, Garlie, Gettin' Even, Cirofag, Prince d'Amour, Texan, Fish, Malen and others eligible to compete for the $5,000 stake, an excellent race is assured.

High Foot, one of the ante-post favorites for the Kentucky Derby, won the Derby trial last year and it was on that victory that the Valley Lake stable's race attracted heavy support for the blue ribbon event of the American turf.

'Big Ed' Morris Signs Contract

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—(UP)—The Boston Red Sox tonight announced receipt of the signed contract of Edward (Big Ed) Morris, righthanded pitcher.

Morris, whose home is in Mobile, Ala., participated in 13 games last season, winning 4 and losing 9.

Kopf Has Entries For Indoor Meet

Entry blanks for the indoor track and field championships of America, scheduled for New York, February 25, have been received by Frank Kopf, secretary of the Atlanta division of the A. A. U.

Morris was getting ready for the Firpo war. This is pretty good indication that the ex-champion knows how to keep in shape. He weighs just 200 today and that is what he weighed back in 1923 before the harder part of his training was finished.

INSTALLMENT V.

"Tack's light again," said Betty Rogers. That made Peter realize that this girl hadn't come in alone; he became aware, with a silly feeling of resentment, of the big, good looking chap who followed her.

"Tack?" said Peter, inquiringly—but with a vague stirring of memory.

"Tack Thayer—you must have known him. She was Martha Cameron."

That placed the boy for Peter, and he looked at him more closely. What he saw was rather shocking. Tack had begun, Peter thought, to go to seed, and he was too young, and much too fine an animal, for that. There was no disputing the fact, though. It was manifest in the puffy look under his eyes, in the sagging of the muscles of his jaw, in the slack, weak look of his hands. As Peter sat on the roof, looking at the mist on the river, he hated remembering that impression Tack had given him at Emma's. But facts are stubborn things, especially when, like Peter, you have been trained to look at them scientifically, with neither passion nor prejudice.

Nearly every one in Emma's bar that morning spoke to the Thayers. But Tack was too far gone to notice, and Martha, though she wasn't rude, was obviously indifferent. She nodded to Zahn, though; that struck Peter as odd. He seemed to matter more to her than any one there; she smiled at him, and her smile lit up her face for a moment, and brought beauty, real beauty, into it for the first time. Then she and Tack found stools at the bar, and Tack began at once to drink, hard and fast.

Martha, though, only took an occasional, absent-minded sip from her glass. There was a purposeful look about her, Peter thought, as if she were waiting for something to happen, or, more probably, for some one to appear. All at once she turned and looked at the door, and following her eyes, Peter saw a man who'd just come in; a tall, dark, scowling boy, with a weak mouth.

"I thought so," said Betty. "There's the boy friend. Stop watching Martha Thayer, Peter. She's not your breakfast, lunk."

Peter grinned, but he didn't stop watching Martha. Not that she knew that; her eyes were all for the newcomer.

"That's Evan Ross, going over to them," said Betty. "Damn it, I wish Martha'd snap out of it. Tack's going to crown Evan some day."

Some one from another table asked Betty to dance just then, and that stirred up the rest of Peter's crowd to activity so that, pretty soon, he was left alone. He could have found some one to dance with, but he was glad of a chance to sit, quietly, and watch the group at the bar. Ross had joined the Thayers, now; joined Martha, rather, for they both ignored Tack, and though he tried, once or twice, to break into their talk, Martha silenced him, pretty sharply, each time.

He didn't seem to resent that at first, but then, abruptly, in the way of a drunken man, he did. He sent his newly filled glass flying, with a sudden gesture, so that Martha had to draw back to save her dress. Then he slid down from his stool, and stood, glaring at them.

"I'm going home," he announced, so loudly that for a moment everyone stopped talking to stare, and there was one of those beastly silences in which an angry voice lingers in the air of a room as smoke does after a shot. Then the talk broke out again.

"All right, Tack," Martha said, quietly.

"You coming?"

"Not now, no. Go ahead if you want to, Tack. I'll get home all right."

Tack stood there, swaying a little, baffled, too drunk to know what to do next. Ross, Peter saw, was watching him with wary, hostile eyes and lips tightly compressed.

"Well—all right," said Tack, after a moment, and turned away. He lurched as he walked and his uncertain progress toward the door brought him toward Peter's table. Peter looked, and he found himself feeling sorry for Tack, though he wasn't, as a rule, one to waste much sympathy on men who drank more than they could carry. But to Peter's surprise, Tack didn't pass him, but stopped; he could feel him looking at him, until it became easier to face him than to keep his eyes averted.

"Hello!" said Peter, thickly. "I know you! Wait—I got it! Peter Wayne—Sheff, weren't you? It's a long time I don't see you. How'd hell are you, Peter?"

"Fine," said Peter. "I didn't think you'd know me. How're they breaking for you, Tack?"

"Fair to rotten," said Tack, with the appalling suggestion of coming tears you hear, sometimes, in the voice of a man who's been drinking hard for days. "Here—come along."

He reached for Peter's arm and pulled him to his feet.

"Look out—what goes on?" said Peter, laughing, and trying to put away. But, though Tack might be going to seed, there was enough of him left to handle Peter. Even so Peter might have put up an argument if he'd guessed what the other meant to do. As it was, though, he was over at the bar before he knew what was afoot. His wife, Martha's angry eyes, and her tight, scornful young lips.

"Out o' the game," said Tack. "Puttin' in sub-substitute. May I present Mr. Wayne, Mrs. Thayer? Knew him N'Haven. An—oh, yes—Mr. Ross, Mr. Wayne. He lowered his voice. "Have to watch Ross, Pete. He's a regular son o' a female dog, Ross is."

"Tack—you beast!" said Martha. "Will you go home—if you're going."

"Home," said Tack. "Sure. I got home. Who says I haven't? American home—bul-bulwark o' nation! Vive la France!"

And then he went, without another word.

"I'm sorry, Mr. Wayne," said Martha. "Take Tack's stool and have a drink, won't you? And so long that only Peter could hear: "Please!"

Peter stayed, of course. Any one hearing the urgent, pleading note in her voice must have stayed. A drink appeared before him, but neither he nor Martha were giving the prohibition people anything to worry about that morning; both had other things to think about.

"Get me some cigarettes, please, Evan," said Martha.

"Oh, wait!" he said. "The girl'll be around in a minute—"

"But I want some now," said Martha, gently. Peter offered her, but she shook her head. "Thanks, no. Evan knows my brand." Ross went off, rather sulkily, and Martha grinned at Peter, like a mischievous small girl. "I wanted to get rid o' him," she explained.

"Oh," said Peter, rather flatly. "She was looking at you like that queer, swift appraisal. It lasted only a few seconds; then she nodded."

"I think we're going to be friends," she said. "I was looking at you, when you were sitting over there alone, and I was wishing I knew you. You see—I haven't—I can't explain, now, but I need some one, quite terribly, to do something for me, and there just isn't time for us to make friends first. We can do all that later, can't we?"

"Yes," said Peter. He thought that was pretty inadequate, but Martha told him later that it wasn't, at all; that it just made her feel he knew enough to know when to be money-lending.

"Good," she said. "Then—will you take me home? Now? If Tack really has gone home and I turn up with Evan behind me, I'm finished now."

She slipped down from her stool and took his arm, and they started for the door. They met Ross, coming back, as they passed through, and Peter saw that while he did look annoyed, he wasn't at all surprised.

"I'm leaving," said Martha. "Give me the check, please. Thanks. Go back and pay the check—and stay a while, will you? I'll call you in the morning. Good night."

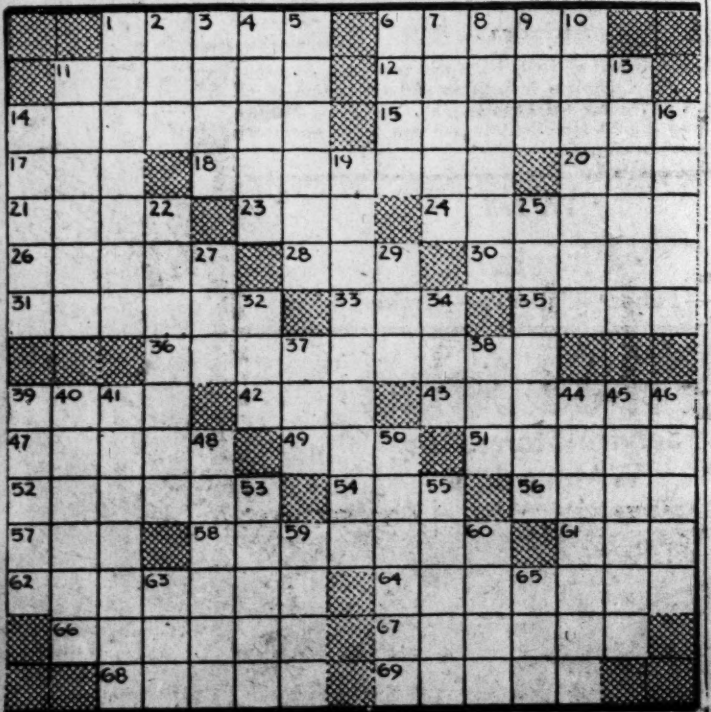

Ross nodded, after a moment.

Mrs. Turner Elected Chairman Of Nominating Committee

Mrs. George L. Turner was elected chairman of the nominating committee at the meeting of the Atlanta Woman's Club held yesterday afternoon at the clubhouse on Peachtree street. Elected to serve on this committee, which will nominate officers for the forthcoming year at the May meeting, are Mesdames D. F. Stevenson, Walter A. Sims, E. V. Carter and Miss Virginia Hardin. Mrs. Thornton M. Fincher, incumbent president of the club, has declined to run for this office, making her statement to this effect at yesterday's session.

Traffic Chairman. Mrs. Odie Poundstone was appointed chairman of the committee to assist Lieutenant Jack Malcolm, head of the traffic squad, to help enforce the traffic regulations in Atlanta. Composing this committee are Mesdames Howard C. McCutcheon, C. V. Gowing, M. S. Harwood, James K. Jordan, L. W. Bode, George L. Berry and Homer Dowdy.

The Atlanta Woman's Club is co-operating with the Georgia Association of Workers for the Blind in sponsoring this movement and Mesdames H. Burke Nicholson, James A. Wood and Harold F. Thomson were named as a committee to assist Mrs. Harry G. Poole, chairman, in this work. Mrs. Nat Kaiser, chairman of hospital committee, spoke of the benefit to be given at the Ochs hospital children's ward at Grady hospital. She added that the city did not seem to have resources enough to take care of the children of the poor, and that the Woman's Club had been making it one of their special objects of charity.

Mrs. D. P. Hilder spoke of an appeal made to the club by a widow receiving only a nominal salary, who is unable to give her ten-year-old child the supervision necessary for a child of that age. Mrs. Wilder announced that plans had been made by the club for the child to enter Vashli school at Thomasville.

Program Rendered. The program was in charge of Mrs. W. F. Melton, chairman of literature; Mrs. C. H. Ashford, chairman of American homes, and Miss Fern Sulder, chairman of home economics. Mrs. Melton read "A Plausible Theorist," by Marion Kriegshafer, and "Remembrance," by Mrs. E. K. Voohees, an original story and poem both written by members of her literature committee. Mrs. Ashford introduced Mrs. John Perdue, chairman of distinguished guests; Mrs. M. L. Throver, hospitality chairman; Mrs. R. L. Reddingfield, chairman of markets; Mrs. R. C. Jessup, chairman of cook books; Mrs. Julian Bailey, chairman of scrapbook, and Mrs. W. H. Snav, chairman of telephone, whose committees come under the interesting iterations of home. Miss Sulder introduced Miss Willie Vie Dowdy, state home improvement specialist, whose subject dealt with the home from the standpoint of beauty and comfort. Mrs. Mary Griffith Dobbs, chairman of music, presented Mrs. Charles J. Warner, soprano, in a group of songs, with Mrs. Cecil Stockard accompanying at the piano.

Miss Fern Snider will speak over WGST Wednesday evening, February 11, at 8 o'clock, her subject being the free cooking school being sponsored by the Atlanta Woman's Club in the auditorium on February 24, 25 and 26.

Mrs. Thornton M. Fincher, president, moved that this organization sponsor the movement to put a bill before the legislature next summer, that women's clubs in Georgia be tax exempt, and Mrs. W. F. Trenary, legislative chairman, was made chairman of the movement.

Mother of Four Babies

"Although I am only 22 years old, I have four babies to care for. Before my first baby was born my mother urged me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because I was so terribly weak. I had to lie down four or five times a day. After three bottles I could feel a great improvement. I still take the Vegetable Compound whenever I need it for it gives me strength to be a good mother to my family."—Mrs. Vern L. Dennings, 510 Johnson Street, Saginaw, Michigan.

STOPPED HAVING BILIOUS SPELLS

"Black-Draught Relieved Me," Says This Lady. Complexion Cleared Up.

Oklahoma City, Okla.—Mrs. Lealie Little, of 305 West Chickasaw Street, this city, says she used to suffer from biliousness and constipation. "I would get dizzy and lose my appetite," writes Mrs. Little. "I would get up feeling dull and have a bad taste in my mouth. This would be followed by sick headache."

"My father had been using Theodor's Black-Draught for some time, so he suggested that I take it."

"It relieved me at once. I found it the best thing for constipation. I had ever tried. I took it before meals. I soon stopped having bilious spells. My complexion cleared up. I felt like a new person."

"I keep a package of Black-Draught always in the house, and if I feel the least upset in my digestion, I begin taking Black-Draught. All my family take this wonderful medicine, and we feel we can praise it because we have gotten so much benefit from its use."

All people—young and old—occasionally need Theodor's Black-Draught. Sold everywhere.

Miss Johnson Honors Mr. and Mrs. Porter

Miss Billie Johnson entertained at dinner last evening at her home on Fourteenth street, honoring her guests, Mr. and Mrs. Stevens Porter, of Greenville, S. C.

The decorations of the beautifully appointed table reflected the Valentine season. A charming arrangement of red roses, white anemones and white hyacinths formed the centerpiece, which was flanked by tall crimson tapers burning in silver holders. The place cards were handpainted in Valentine design. Covers were placed for 12 friends of the hostess, who was assisted in entertaining the guests by her father, Paul Johnson, and her sister and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sharp.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter will leave this evening for Ormond Beach, Fla., where they will spend the remainder of the winter season. Mrs. Porter was before her marriage Miss Winnie Waterman, of Rye, N. Y., a belle of eastern society circles. Miss Johnson was the first guest of Mr. and Mrs. Porter during a visit in New York last fall.

Party at Mon Repos.

MARIETTA, Ga., Feb. 9.—Colonel Fitzhugh Lee and Mrs. Lee have issued invitations for an informal supper to take place at their country place, Mon Repos, Wednesday evening, February 18. The party will honor Brigadier General Harold Fluke and Mrs. Fluke, who leave soon for the Canal Zone for station, and Brigadier General George H. Estes and Mrs. Estes. The guests will include 20 members of the military set.

Mrs. Giddings Presides

Shuttering Arms Association meets Thursday morning, February 12, at 10:30 o'clock at the Osmond Sanders Nursery on Baker street. Mrs. Glenn Giddings, the president, will preside and important business will be transacted.

Mrs. Lamb Honored.

Mrs. John Marshall Slaton, Jr., was hostess at an informal tea Monday at her home on Peachtree road commemorating Mrs. John Lamb of Richmond, Va., the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Turner Jones.

Benefit Postponed.

Rose Croix benefit party to be held at the home of Miss Nellie Mae Peck, on Dixie avenue, N. E., Friday, February 13, is postponed until a future date on account of illness in the home. The date of the party will be announced later by Miss Peck.

Beige-Brown Color Chart for Spring Shoes

Dark "Nu-Brown"
Medium "Almora"

"Nu-Brown" is a dark African leather-shade; wear with any print dresses that contain dark brown, or with brown-fur-trimmed coats. "Almora" is a soft cocoa-brown that combines especially well with "Nu-Brown."

Light "Nu-Beige" and "Maple"
Pastel "Sand Dune"

The first two are beige tones, one with grey cast and one with rose cast. Ideal for the new light-colored woollens in spring coats. "Sand Dune" is for wear with pastel frocks.

All these new Nisley shoe-colors shown in correct combinations in our window this week... together with new stockings in same beige-brown color-series.

An interesting exposition. See it!

Junior League Jottings

MRS. REGINALD FLEET, Editor

One week from tomorrow, on Wednesday, February 18, Bobby Jones, John Golden, Horton Smith and Gene Sarazen will stage a great golf tournament for the sake of the charity sponsored by the Junior League of Atlanta, the Junior League ward in the Epilepsy Memorial hospital. These four world-famous golfers will very generously give their services to further the work undertaken by the Junior League. It is a very gracious thing indeed for these men to give their services for the Junior League, and the golf committee wishes to remind the girls selling tickets to the match that the proceeds derived from this tournament will be devoted entirely to the hospital.

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. John O. Chiles, a group of charming Junior Leaguers will sell sandwiches, Coca-Cola, coffee, ginger ale and cigars during the match. Mrs. Chiles will have 30 members of the league to assist her. Among these are: Miss Elizabeth Spalding, Miss Margaret Nelson, Miss Ellen Newell, Miss Julia Meador, Mrs. John Grant, Jr., Mrs. Robert Maddox, Jr., Mrs. Grady Black, Jr., Mrs. Sidney Daniel, Mrs. Hooper Bennett, Mrs. Edgar Dunlap, Mrs. Marion Kiser, Mrs. Vincenia Shipp, Mrs. Winfrey Ramsey, Mrs. Julian Riley, Mrs. Norris Broyles and Mrs. Kenneth Ellis.

Mrs. Eugene Harrington, the chairman of the score card committee, has created a most unusual and attractive score card which will be sold at the match. Each score card has been autographed by Bobby Jones and will serve not only as a useful score keeper but as a memento of the occasion.

On Friday of this week the Atlanta Junior League will present a fashion show in the Dress Shop at Rich's. This fashion show will be a weekly feature in the Dress Shop. Six Junior League girls will serve as models and hostesses in the shop, wearing the very newest models. This Friday the Junior League models will be Miss Margaret Arnold, Miss Julie Meador, Mrs. Emily Robinson Head, Mrs. Russell Bellman, Mrs. Green Warren and Mrs. William Ogden.

The Junior League hostesses at Rich's tearoom for the week are: On Tuesday, Miss Virginia Torrance and Mrs. Norman Colledge; on Wednesday, Miss Adair McCarty and Miss Royce Loke; on Thursday, Miss Sara DeSaussure and Miss Augusta Porter; on Friday, Mrs. John Coleman and Mrs. Dan Woodward; on Saturday, Miss Catherine Norcross and Miss Billie Johnson. Junior League girls find the tearoom a delightful meeting place between shopping hours. Two members of the Junior League have served as hostesses each day since the middle of September.

All material for the next issue of the Junior League Magazine should be submitted to Mrs. Lawrence Willet, the city editor, by February 23. The subject for this issue is "Art and Architecture" and includes interiors. This subject should be a fascinating one providing interesting and beautiful material for the April issue. Mrs. Charles Lindley, the editor of the Junior League Magazine, has sent her congratulations to the various leagues "on the ever increasing merit of material submitted."

This afternoon at 2 o'clock the Junior League will present to the children of the Goldsmith school three Uncle Remus plays. Each year the Junior League presents a number of performances to children of the public schools who otherwise might not be able to see the plays. The three plays to be presented are "The Tar Baby," "Mr. Wolf's Plan That Failed," and "Sis Cow and the Simmon Tree," which have met with so much success whenever they have been presented. The Marionettes are planning a second presentation performance at another public school, the name of the school to be announced later. The children who enjoy these performances have been among the Marionettes' most attentive and appreciative audiences.

Next week this very industrious group of puppeteers will start work on some new plays and upon the construction of Marionettes for these plays. They have in their repertoire at the present time three Uncle Remus plays and a number of plays based on fairy stories.

Cecilians Elect Members
Of interest to the public as well as to the students of North Avenue Presbyterian school is the announcement of Miss Rebecca Young, president of the Cecilian Dramatic Club, of the new members that have been taken into the club. They include Misses Celeste Smith, Peggy Ulrich, Mr. J. Sherman, Mary Carey Maynard and Elise Foster.

The club presents two plays each year. The fall play was "Mary's Other Husband" and was presented at the Tech "Y." The announcement of the spring play will be made at an early date.

Mignonette Club.
Mignonette Garden Club (Junior) will meet Tuesday, February 17, at Miss Louise Fraser at her home on Springdale road. Mrs. Bruce Hall will be the speaker. A short business session will be held before the lecture, at which time the new officers will be elected. At the January meeting it was decided to plant a pink dogwood tree on the grounds of the North Avenue Presbyterian school. The Mignonette Garden Club is sponsored by the Lullwater Garden Club.

Mr. Mrs. Feltham Feted
Miss Sarah McWhorter and Mrs. J. E. Van Valkenburg, Jr., entertained at a buffet supper at the home of the latter on Brookhaven drive Sunday evening, honoring Mr. and Mrs. John C. Feltham, whose marriage was an event of January 23. The hostesses were assisted in entertaining by Mr. and Mrs. B. P. McWhorter.

THE DRESS ACCOMPANIED BY

So many women love jackets that Paris has added one to nearly every day dress this season. There are so many times that just a dress seems inadequate.

Especially nice is this jacket dress to wear to town for a shopping trip in the morning. It gives a more tailored appearance. Then one may keep a luncheon engagement.

The little jacket removed, reveals a stunning informal afternoon dress. The original model, as sketched, combined navy blue flat crepe with white crepe.

Style No. 201 may be had in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20 years, 36, 38 and 40 inches bust.

Printed and plain crepe silk is an ideal combination.

Spring, the season of prettiest styles, will soon be here. Prepare now by ordering a copy of our new Fashion Magazine. Attractive styling for women, misses and children. And instructive lessons in sewing.

Price of book 10 cents. Price of pattern 15 cents in stamps or coin (coin is preferred). Wrap coin carefully.

Birthday Party.

Mrs. W. R. Bean will entertain at a children's party this afternoon at 3 o'clock at her home on the North Decatur road in Druid Hills, in honor of her young grandson, Theo Bean, Jr., who will celebrate his fifth birthday. The valentine motif will be carried out in the decoration in the rooms where 40 little friends of the honor guest will assemble for games and contests.

Honors Young Son.

Mrs. O. C. Nickelson was hostess at a children's party yesterday afternoon at her home in West End, in honor of her son, Olin, Jr., in celebration of his seventh birthday. Seventy friends of the young host were invited.

Vacant Chair Circle.

The Vacant Chair Circle of the Atlanta Child's Home, Mrs. James Stanley Moore, chairman, meets at the home of Mrs. Homer Ledbetter, 594 Seminole avenue, N. E., Thursday, February 12, at 11 o'clock. Members are requested to phone acceptance to hostess.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

PETER RABBIT'S GRUMBING.

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.
A little grumbling now and then
Relieves the minds of mice and men.
—Old Mother Nature.

Peter Rabbit isn't given to grumbling often. No, sir, Peter isn't what you would call a grumbler. Once in a while, however, he does do a little grumbling. He was grumbling now at he panted for breath inside a hollow log just within the Green Forest. He had just won a race for life by just one jump from Hooty the Owl and he knew that somewhere outside Hooty was even then watching and waiting. "I wouldn't say that," squeaked Whitefoot. "You seem to like to come over to the Green Forest well enough." "I would like it better if it were brambles and bushes instead of trees," retorted Peter. "When I left the dear Old Briar-patch I took care to look and look for possible danger. Hooty must have been in the top of a tree over here on the edge of the Green Forest where I couldn't see him but where he could see me. So I almost ran straight into his claws, and all because he had a tree to sit in. Trees may be good for some people but not for me. No, sir, I haven't any use for trees, never have had and never will have. What are you chuckling about?" Whitefoot, still chuckling in a squeaky way, "What were you thinking?" demanded Peter, suspecting that he was being laughed at.

"How often trees have saved your life, yet how ungrateful you are," replied Whitefoot.

"Why did a tree ever save my life?" demanded Peter indignantly.

"Right now," replied Whitefoot, chuckling aloud.

"What do you mean by right now?" persisted Peter. "This old log saved my life, not a tree."

"What do you mean by that?" what is this old log?" retorted Whitefoot.

"Why it is—it is—" Peter paused.

"Well, what is it?" insisted Whitefoot.

"Why, it is just a log, that's all," finished Peter rather lamely.

"And how would you find a nice, safe hollow log if there were no trees?" continued Whitefoot.

"It seems to me that I have seen you glad to pop down in that hole between the roots of the big pine tree near here because with those roots there no one can dig you out. And I wonder what you would have done that night when Old Man Coyote so nearly caught you had there not been a great pile of brush for you to hide under, and that brush was the branches of trees?"

"I don't know," Peter said, "you old grumbler, I think trees have done a great deal for you a great many times. They are a lot like the rest of us, some are good, some are bad, and some sleep all winter."

BUSINESS RECOVERY

PREDICTED BY WILSON

Business recovery will be steady, though slow, throughout 1931, in the opinion of R. S. Wilson, vice president and sales manager of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. Mr. Wilson is attending a two-day sales conference of his company at the Biltmore. "The lowest point of the depression period was reached in November," Mr. Wilson said Monday. "Thus the upward movement has already passed its first quarter year with tangible evidence of improvement and indications of a sure, though slow, up swing for the rest of the year."

The fabric mills of the Goodyear company give employment to thousands in Georgia, while their tire plant in Alabama is one of the south's largest industrial establishments. In Georgia the company has fabric mills at Rockmart, Cedartown and Cartersville.

Mothers, Mix This

At Home for a Bad Cough

You'll be pleasantly surprised when you make up this simple home remedy and try it for a distressing cough or chest cold. It takes but a moment to mix and costs little, but it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

Get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex from any drugist. Pour this into a pint bottle; then fill it with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. The full pint thus made costs no more than a small bottle of ready-made medicine, yet it is much more effective. It is pure, keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

A simple remedy has a remarkable three-fold action. It goes right to the seat of trouble, loosens the germs, phlegm, and soothes away the inflammation. Part of the medicine is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly upon the bronchial tubes and thus helps inwardly to throw off the whole trouble with surprising ease.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, a refined, palatable form, known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded. —(adv.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—(AP)—St. Lawrence Corp. bonds, which carry a 6% interest rate, were sold at a 10% discount from the United States Government group in today's session under stimulation provided by an outbreak of buying in the share market. Bonds carrying convertible features flashed some of their old-time form, rising 1 to 3 points in more activity than they have shown in many weeks.

Participating in the advance were such issues as Allegheny Corporation 5s, American Telephone 4-12s, Atco 4-12s, Chicago & Northwest 4-34s, General Teachers 6s, Loeb 6s, Shubert Theaters 6s, and Warner Brothers 6s.

Corporate domestic issues of investment type were fractionally higher, although the list was spottier and activity not more than average. Baltimore & Ohio 5s and Canadian National Railways 5s reached new highs for the year.

Baltimore & Ohio 5s and Canadian National Railways 5s reached new highs for the year.

Bung interest in United States Governments lagged and were irregular at the close.

Developments in the foreign sector were mostly of a constructive nature. Australian and Brazilian Governments were the exception, both rising about 2 points on an average. The Antipodian loans were influenced by reports of a contemplated $3,000,000 loan to help the wheat market.

Sugar, Coffee, Rice.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Raw sugar was unchanged as far as spot prices were concerned today, while about 10¢ higher for the nearest futures. Refiners showed little interest. It was believed that prompt shipment Cubas were obtainable at 3¢. The only sales confirmed were 9,000 bags Philippines for March shipment at 2¢ 10¢, 200 bags for April-May at 3¢, both by operators.
